Editorial

The 1980-81 yearbook staff chose 'Movin' On' as our theme. We chose this theme because it reflected the many changes we experienced in our lives every day.

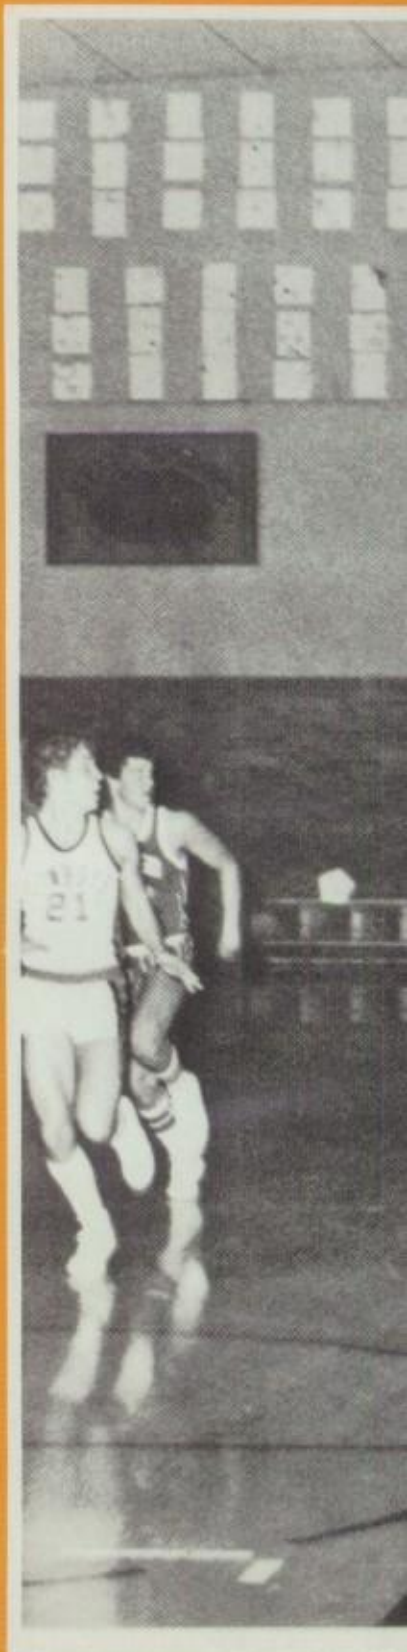

The year brought on many exciting experiences such as defeating Chapman 50 to 49 in the boys' basketball game. It also brought many sad experiences like losing to Perry-LeCompton in the football playoffs.

We also felt a much greater sorrow and for this the Cowboy staff would like to make a special dedication, We dedicate this yearbook to the memory of Brenda Picking and Michelle Miller. They were very much a part of our year at AHS.

Even though we are 'Movin' On' and finding new dreams and challenges, that doesn't mean that we won't have beautiful memories to look back on. Brenda and Michelle took a piece of us with them. So as you're going through the yearbook reflecting memories, we hope you will give special recognition to your memories of Brenda and Michelle.

Note: All opening and closing theme pictures will be identified on page 154.

Energy Crisis Causes Crunch

According to Principal Kenneth Brown the school tried to provide as many activities as possible to benefit the student even though the energy situation caused the school to look over how many trips each activity took.

The school advised teachers to determine whether the field trip was beneficial to the student. If the trip was, then the teacher had to get permission from the principal and vice-principal. The areas of educational benefit to the student and conflicting dates on the school calendar were main considerations.

One activity the student paid for was riding the pep bus. The money the student paid provided for the bus driver and some of the gasoline or depreciation on the bus.

1. Dancers Duane Belzer, Raelyn Racy, Paul Ryan, Jeanine Dunn, Tim Hinkle and Tammy Larson enjoy the band 'Savannah' at the Homecoming dance.

2. Building a pyramid at a pep rally are Kari Farr, Jan Strunk, Theresa Callahan, Sandra Feller, Sondra Flynn, Kathleen Hague, Tammy Anderson and LeAnn Holt.

3. During a scene from the All School play Mrs. Ralston (Wendy Woods) shrieks as she discovers the body of Mrs. Boyle (Angela Barrett).

4. Taking a victory ride during Homecoming ceremonies are candidates Sondra Flynn and Marla Lee along with Queen Martha Wilson and driver Dayna Faulkner.

Activities

Martha, Todd Win Honors

After being crowned Homecoming Queen, Martha Wilson rode in an open horse buggy around the football field with the senior candidates Sondra Flynn and Marla Lee. Underclass attendants Angie Wilson Junior, Connie Nemechek, Sophomore, and Quinlan Hoerner, Freshman, followed in a stage coach.

After the ride they joined the crown bearer Ryan Wedel, and flower girl Stephanie Willis for pictures that reflected the theme 'Cherish the Moments.' To add to the occasion, the Cowboys won their game against Wamego 21-6.

At the annual Cowboy Joe dance at the Elks Club with the entertainment of 'Natural Gas,' Todd Kuntz won the honor of 1980-81 Cowboy Joe.

Elected by the senior class to become Cowboy Joe Candidates, Andy Dodson, Mark Katzenmeier, Todd Kuntz, David Summers and Bob Stone chose campaign managers to run a week-long campaign.

The campaign managers promoted their candidates by giving campaign parties all week long, and on Wednesday they were permitted to put up posters promoting their candidates around the school.

On Friday the campaign managers put on skits in one last attempt to get the most votes from the student body. To vote students had to buy a year-book before Friday afternoon.

Murders Fill Guesthouse

The Mousetrap, a mystery by Agatha Christie, was presented as the All School Play November 6 and 8. It was directed by Robert Haley and Vickie Powell, student director.

The story centered around a group of strangers stranded in a boarding house during a snow storm. A newly married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ralston (Wendy Woods and Kevin Dilmore), were the owners of the house. As soon as all the guests arrived, the mystery began with the unexplained appearance of a police detective (Frank Long).

A murder took place after the detective's arrival. He put everyone under suspicion for the murder. As he scrutinized each of the characters, many surprises unraveled.

Guests included Christopher Wren (Scott Jolley) the wild-looking, neurotic young man; Mrs. Boyle (Angela Barrett) a large, imposing woman with a bad temper; Major Metcalf (Ed Mills) a middle-aged military man; Miss Casewell (Kathy Cox) a young woman with a masculine manner; and Mr. Paravicini (Jerry Patterson) an elderly foreign man.

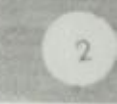

1. Mr. Ralston (Kevin Dilmore) helps Miss. Casewell (Kathy Cox) with her luggage after arrival at Monkswell Manor Guesthouse.

2. Crew. Front Row: Michelle Ganser (sound), Kathy Cormack (props), Back Row: Sandy Teasley (makeup), Sandy Brinker (makeup), Tammy Piper (lights and curtain), Kim Rosalez (lights and curtain), Vicki Powell (student director).

3. Major Metcalf (Ed Mills) ponders a point made by Sergeant Trotter.

4. Detective Sergeant Trotter (Frank Long) interrogates Mr. Paravicini (Jerry Patterson) on his whereabouts before the murder while Mrs. Ralston (Wendy Woods) looks on.
 5. Angela Barrett helps Jerry Patterson comb his hair, after painting it black for the play.
 6. Cast. Kevin Dilmore (Mr. Ralston), Ed Mills (Major Metcalf), Jerry Patterson, (Mr. Paravicini), Wendy Woods (Mrs. Ralston), Scott Jolley (Christopher Wren), Kathy Cox (Miss Casewell), Angela Barrett (Mrs. Boyle), Frank Long (Sergeant Trotter).

1. Kreton (Brad Knauss), General Powers (Kevin Dilmore) and Aide (Mike Kaiser) demonstrate Kreton's warfare for holding off their enemy.

2. As General Powers (Kevin Dilmore) drowns his sorrows in a drink, Kreton (Brad Knauss) attempts to cheer him up.

Juniors Visit Small Planet

Comedy and science fiction characterized A Visit to a Small Planet, the Junior Class Play, chosen by director Sarah Riddell and student director Ed Mills. The play was presented on February 26 and 28 in the auditorium.

The play took place outside Mannassass, Virginia during the summer of 1981. Kreton, a superior being from another planet, arrived on earth hoping to take part in a war. Brad Knauss played the part of Kreton. Other members were Kevin Dilmore (General Tom Powers), Kenny Graves (Roger Spelding), LaMonna Hahn (Ellen Spelding), Adam Angst (Conrad Mayberry), Tina Shea (Reba Spelding), Mike Kaiser (Aide), Nancy Sanchez (Delton), and Joan Miller and Leslie Crist (television technicians).

Director Riddell gained her first directing experiences with A Visit to a Small Planet. She said, 'I don't know what I've gotten myself into, but it shouldn't be too bad because I have a good, cooperative cast and a very helpful student director.'

4. Through his ability to read minds, Kreton (Brad Knauss) causes a rucus between Conrad Mayberry (Adam Angst) and Aide (Mike Kaiser) over Ellen Spelding (LaMonna Hahn).

5. Crew. Front Row: Denny Klotz, Joan Miller, Kyle Kraft, Sue McGivney. Back Row: Nancy Edmunds, Wendy Woods, Tammy Anderson.

4. J. D. Dennis displays his trust as he falls into the hands of Duane Blezer and Kurt Wetzel while Kevin Malo, Jeff Walker and Robert Lehner look on during dress rehearsal.

Ovations Praise Final Nights

Standing ovations topped off the last two nights of the operetta Fiddler on the Roof. Playing to capacity crowds, the operetta was presented April 30, May 1, and 2.

Gerald Laudermilk, director, said that there weren't any major problems. 'I think the operetta was one of smoothest we've had in a long time. We did have to work harder though, because there were 20 scenes, which is a lot for a high school production.'

The working facilities hampered the operetta somewhat. The stage was too small for some major scenes, which limited what could be done.

The cast and crew, however, made up for any weakness. 'They weren't tired of the music and everyone worked together real well,' said Laudermilk.

Fiddler on the Roof was one five operettas repeated over the years, but repeating a musical didn't seem to create any problems. Laudermilk was especially pleased with the standing ovation and the work put into it.

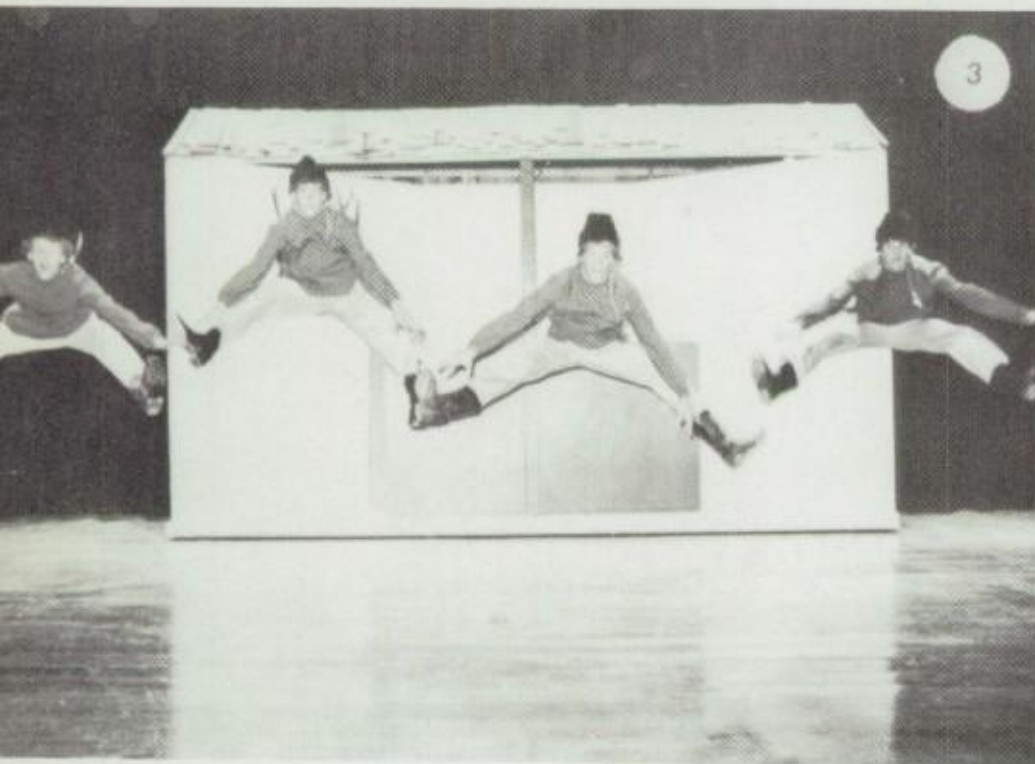

'I've gotten as much praise on this year's operetta as on past ones. That's what makes it all worth while.'

5. Tevye (Frank Long) tells his wife Golda (Kathy Cox) about the dream he had about his grandma.

6. Hodel (Mary Padgett) and Perchik (Ed Mills) dance at the wedding of Tzeitel and Motel.

Debateurs Take Fifth In State

Debateurs won the Salina Regional on their way to a fifth place finish in the state tournament.

Finishing fifth in state marked the tenth debate team Coach Terry Stephens had taken to state.

At regionals and state, Diana Phillips and David Summers debated the affirmative, and Brian Phillips and Leslie Crist debated the negative side. Alternates were Laurie Hamill, Chris Hartman, Wendy Woods and Brad Knauss.

Twelve experienced debaters and six novices made up the debate squad.

NFL officers for the year were David Summers (president), Laurie Hamill (vice-president) and Wendy Woods (secretary). NFL put on a one-act play with the help of Robert Haley. The actors were Scott Jolley and Craig Hiebert.

Annual Cowtown Debate Tournament was held December 5-6. The team from Winfield took the honor of the Elks traveling trophy along with first place trophy and the Rotary Club Sweepstakes trophy. Seventeen schools competed in the tournament. AHS hosted this tournament every year.

FFA, FHA Members Work For Community

FFA-FHA combined fun night and barnwarmer activities on October 25. Fun night activities were held in the vocational-agriculture building and the crowning of the king and queen candidates took place in the school cafeteria.

The king candidates' activities included the frosting of a cake, the sewing of a hole in a sock and the diapering of a doll. The queen candidates' activities were sawing boards and hammering nails straight into a plank.

After fun night activities, FFA-FHA members and their dates attended a dance where Liz Burwell and Scott Kolling were crowned king and queen.

Another activity for FFA members was the community project. Members painted and fixed fences for a specific place. The project was part of BOAC (Building our American Community).

Wendy Woods, junior, won the District C Creed contest on February at the District C elections held at Jewell. Woods recited the FHA creed and did an oral interpretation of what the creed meant to her. Woods represented the district at the state meeting on May 8.

Y-Teens Cut Mums

For the first time in 20 years, Y-Teens didn't sell mums for homecoming.

In the past, Y-Teens had sold mums for homecoming. Sponsor Elinor Haas commented, 'The reason being that there was a lack of sales.' Also, there was a lack of interest in the Y-Teen members selling them. The selling of mums for next year was still under consideration.

Traditions that were carried on included a Halloween Party, Christmas Tea, Valentine's Party Secret Sisters and Mother-Daughter Tea.

1. At the annual Y-Teen Fall Conference, seniors Karen Garten and Kathy Knisell register fellow Y-Teens from surrounding areas.

2. Freshman Robin Howie prepares to purchase a cinnamon roll from sophomore Becky Heinrich and senior Lance Royer.

3. Sophomores RaDonna Phillips, Mark Winters, and juniors Brad Knauss and Kevin Dilmore along with Michael Woods prepare to sell carnations to the students for Valentine's Day.

YAC Gets Trip Cash

On March 4, the Youth Advisory Council sold cinnamon rolls and juice in the morning to make money to send members to Little Rock, Arkansas, for the state state convention.

Besides making money to send members to the state convention, Y.A.C. met once a month to eat breakfast and discuss future projects for additions to the lunch menu.

In addition to revising the lunch menu, Y.A.C. also revised the appearance of the cafeteria. During Christmas, Y.A.C. set up a Christmas tree in the cafeteria, along with Christmas lights and streamers.

Students Visit Civic Groups

Students attended various civic group meetings throughout the year to report on school activities. The clubs represented were Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanians, Optimists and B.P.W.

Juniors and seniors signed up in Mr. Edberg's room and were picked by a committee of teachers. If not enough students signed up, the committee just assigned students to visit the clubs. Senior Kathy Knisell was one of the students selected to attend Kiwanis. She said, 'I talked about Y-Teens, Ensemble and other school activities while Nancy Sanchez talked about sports.'

Teddi Bankes and Kathy Cormack attended Girls' State in Lawrence on June 15-20. David Bond, Todd Kuntz, Brian Phillips, Jon Whitehair, Andy Dodson and David Zey attended Boys' State in Lawrence on June 1-6. David Bond said, 'We learned the basics of government and the political system while at Boys' State'. He continued, 'I liked it. I thought it was fun.'

Writers Win State

Members of the Booster staff, yearbook staff and journalism classes won the State Contest, at Lawrence on March 29.

The 1981 title marked the third time in six years that the journalists won the sweepstakes trophy. Besides 1981, journalists also won the title in 1977 and 1979.

Individual Booster staffers who placed were Jerry Day, second in newswriting, Todd Kuntz, third in front page layout and Frank Long, second in feature.

Only one member from the yearbook staff placed. Dayna Gasswint took first in layout double page spread.

Journalism class members who placed were Tim Day, first in feature and Sherri Wager, second in headline.

Booster advisor Jenelle Cowen said, 'I was somewhat surprised at our taking the sweepstakes. I knew we wouldn't get stomped into the ground but I thought we needed more individual wins to take state.'

A dual editorship was used for the first time on the Booster staff. Todd Kuntz was editor the first semester and Frank Long the second semester. The dual editorship came about because Kuntz and Long were equally qualified. Kelli Park, advertising, commented, 'It doesn't really effect the way the staff works.'

Staffers Take Trips

Yearbook staffers attended The Yearbook Workshop, August 6-8 at Bethany College at Lindsborg.

Members attending were photographers, Jim Rogers and Karen Hettenbach, editors Sondra Flynn, Angie Bean, JoAnn Whitehair, Dayna Gasswint and Vickie Powell, plus page editors Jan Bauman, Juanita Blevins and Marilyn Janzen. Typesetters, Kelli Park and Allen Harris also attended the workshop.

Activities for staffers at the workshop included attending classes on pasteup and layout design and lectures on cover ideas and prices. Photographers attended darkroom and picture taking sessions.

The yearbook staff also took a field trip to Topeka to visit the Josten American Yearbook Company. The staff toured the plant and had a special planning session with artist, Steve Maxwell, and in-plant representative, Patty Clayton.

Touring the plant let staffers better understand yearbook production and how to communicate more effectively with the plant. This planning session helped the staff to gather ideas for the cover and theme of the '81 yearbook.

4. Staffers Sondra Flynn and Kelli Park cut senior pictures for a new staff project, school paste-up of senior portraits.

StuCo Officers Visit Workshop

Student Council officers David Blair, Teddi Bankes and Charlie Bowers attended the state workshop at Emporia State University from July 27-August 1.

Some of the activities at the workshop included attending lectures and looking through handbooks from other schools. Teddi Bankes said, 'It was mostly self evaluation and development of the individual.'

StuCo also sent their president to a National Workshop in Denver, Colorado, in June. David Blair attended the workshop which cost StuCo about $300. Sponsor Robert Chatham stated that about 75 percent of the kids who went said that it was worthwhile.

StuCo's main moneymaker for the activities it funded was the annual dance-a-thon. The money raised from the dance-a-thon went to the Crisis Hotline (a telephone agency for helping people with personal crisis) and for good art work to place in the classroom for the students to enjoy. The dance-a-thon raised about $1,750 giving $875 to both of the projects.

5. After winning the 50's day dress up contest, Lonnie Creach and Scott Kolling pose with a vintage car at Eisenhower Center.

Colorado Exchange Bites The Dust

Though seniors, Curtis Rein and JoAnn Whitehair, were chosen as the out-of-state exchange students, no place could be found to host them in Colorado, even though many schools were contacted.

Castle Rock, Colorado, was the first place contacted but plans fell through due to a misunderstanding of the principal of Castle Rock. Loveland and Monte Vista, Colorado, were also contacted but nothing ever came about.

When asked why a host school could not be found and why there were so many difficulties with the schools contacted Robert Chatham, StuCo sponsor, said, 'The committee got a late start and many schools did not respond. So by the time we found a school it was too late to get anything planned.'

The in-state exchange was with Kingman High School. Sandy Brinker, Linda Morris, Janelle Shouse and Andy Dodson were chosen to go.

Carlos Salvarezza from Argentina and Carla Schiappacasse from Chile were the international exchange students. David Blair and Sue McGiveney hosted the two.

Small Numbers Reduce Squads

Cheerleading try-outs brought changes to the cheerleading system. Few girls showed interest in trying out and this caused the squads to be cut down to three or four girls as compared to the five girls of previous years.

Cheerleading sponsor, Diane Holt, said the lack of numbers did have some disadvantages. 'Sometimes when people were ill or could not cheer because of other activities, this created a problem.'

Another change included the starting of a freshman football cheerleading squad. The girls tried out in the fall of 1980 and cheered at all home freshman games. Holt didn't feel this would be continued next year. She said, 'The girls need a year of high school simply to find out what cheerleading is all about before they get involved.'

The new year school year also brought a new assistant sponsor. Judy Gillespie resigned, leaving new business teacher Jacque Peterson to fill her spot.

Drill Team Purchases New Outfits With Vests

Through different money makers, the drill team purchased new uniforms. Brown double-knit material was bought and sewn by a local store. A new addition to the uniform was matching vests.

To make money, the drill team had a spaghetti supper. Drill team members helped make and serve the dinner which was before the Chapman football game on October 31. Around $300 was raised.

A new money raiser was selling poster calenders. This money raiser brought in $800.

For the second year the Cowgirls held a drill team clinic on January 24. Girls, Kindergarten through the fifth grade learned a routine to "The Candy Man." "Hit Me With Your Best Shot" was the routine taught to the six grade through ninth. They performed at the February 13 basketball game against Marysville.

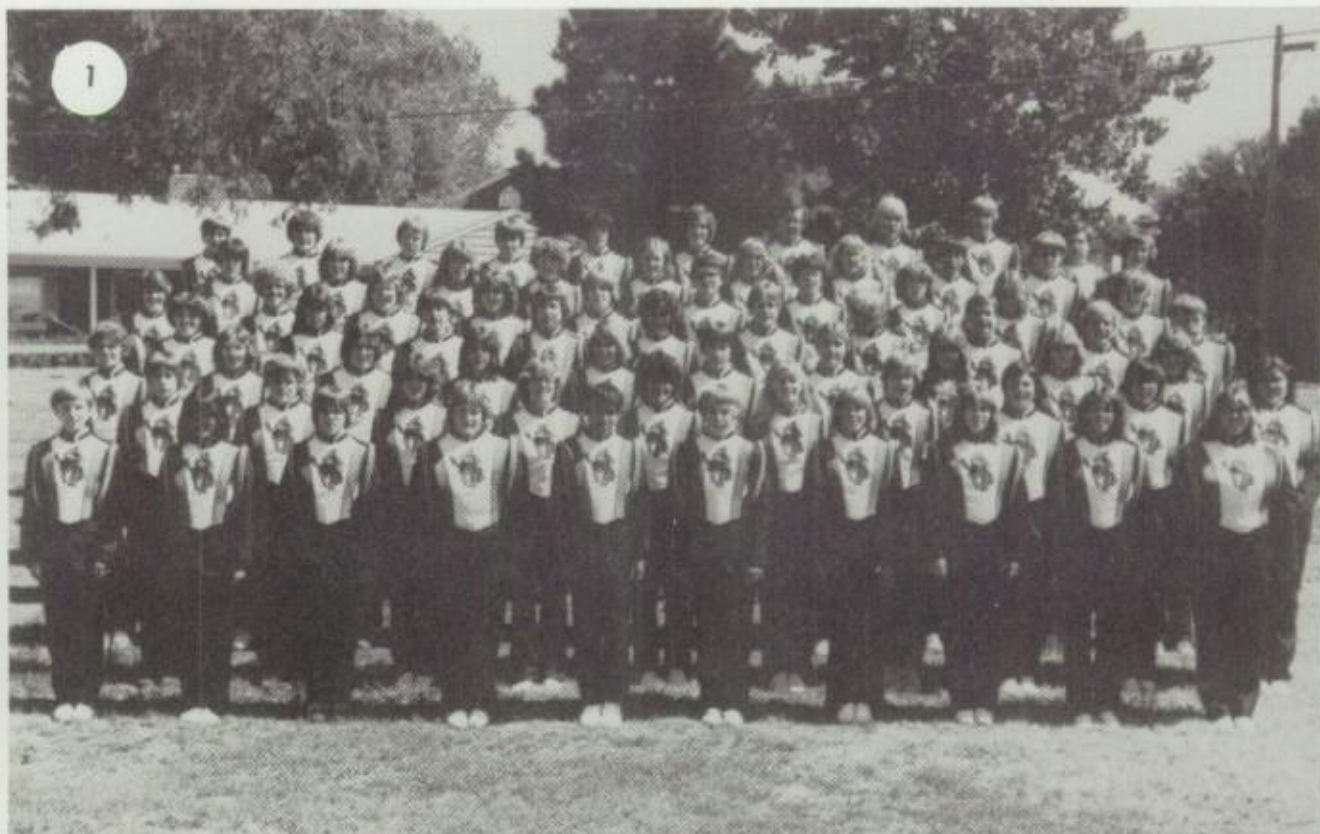

4. Performing for the first time in their new uniforms the drill team perform a routine to "Baddest Band" at sub-state basketball.

Davis Makes Choice--Music

For some teachers, the subject they taught was something they left behind at four o'clock, but for instructor, Jon Davis, music was a way of life.

Davis's music interests began when he was nine years old when he started playing the trumpet. While growing up, when Davis had to choose between other activities and music, he chose music. 'Almost every chance I got to play, I'd play,' he said.

Davis continued his music interests while in college. While attending the University of Kansas, he was an active member in the music program. He was in the stage band, symphonic band, symphony orchestra, brass quintet and the wind ensemble. Outside of school he also played in the Lawrence City Band, Lawrence Symphony and the Lawrence Chamber Players.

While not teaching, Davis was active in the Abilene City Band. He also played in a country western-swing band in his spare-time.

Davis had compliments for the music program at AHS. 'I was impressed by the curriculum and the wide variety of music experience offered to the students.'

Illness Plagues First Review

Deciding to try something new Gerald Laudermilk, chorus director, had the Ensemble present a musical review.

'When performing the kids are often asked to do a solo and this was a way of preparing them to do solos or duets on their own,' Laudermilk said.

The Ensemble picked out most of the music and who they were going to perform with. 'Most of the kids didn't think that they could do a solo or get up in front of an audience,' Laudermilk said. He thought that over all it turned out really well. Laudermilk commented, 'I was pleased and the people were pleased.'

It took quite some time to get the program together. The main reason was quite a bit of illness. First J.D. Dennis and Tim Holmes came down with chicken pox and Connie Nemechek with an eye infection and finally Julie Bogan with laryngitis the day before the review.

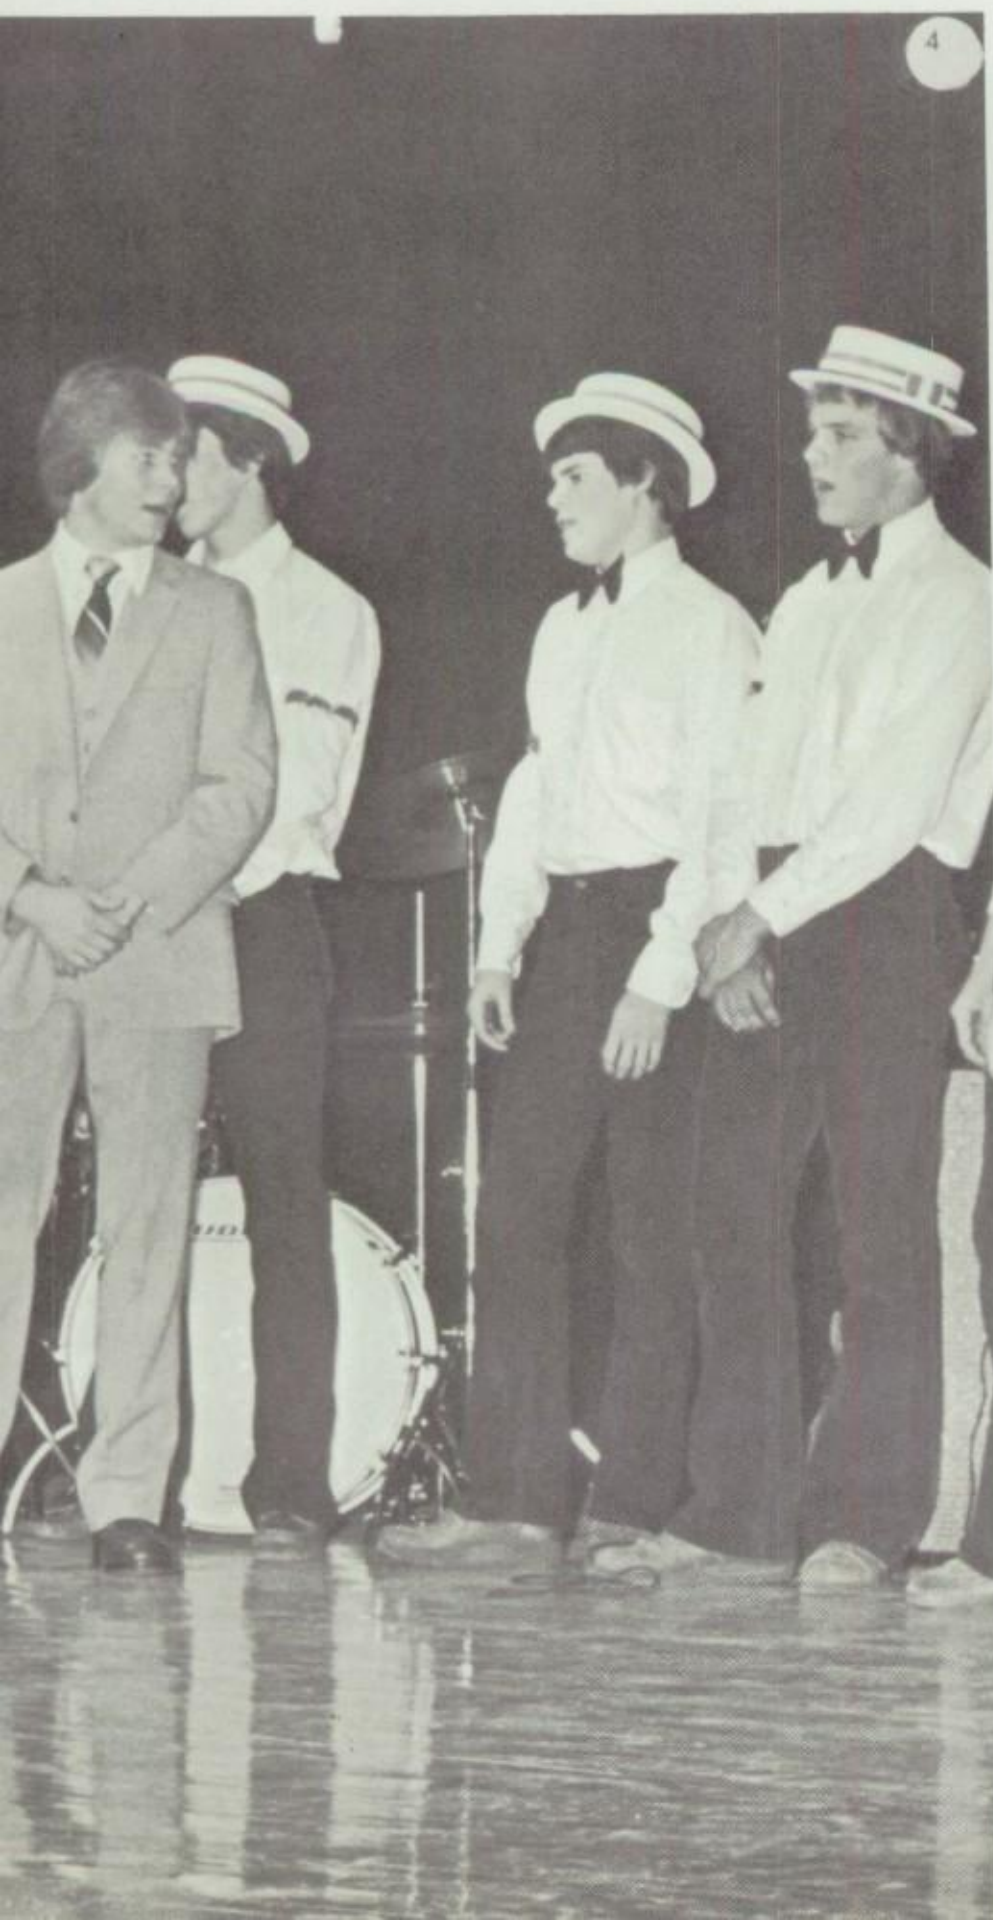

When asked if he would do it next year Laudermilk said 'I think so. I was pleased with it. Also, I don't lose that many members this year.'

Meats fills chorus bill

Over the years the chorus classes searched for accompanists to play the piano. One of those people was Yvonne Meats.

Playing the piano in Meats's family dated back two generations as her mother's mother gave piano lessons. She also had a brother and sister who were in chorus when they attended high school.

Meats began playing the piano eight years ago when she started taking lessons from her mother. She later switched to a different teacher.

Last year Meats played the electric piano for the spring and fall concerts. When not playing Meats sings with the sopranos, but she says, 'I'd rather play than sing.'

Meats planned to continue playing for chorus and also in wind ensemble, but after graduation she was positive she would not continue her music education.

Juniors Scrap Decorating Kit

Departing from past tradition, the junior class decided to not have a decoration kit for prom. The only item purchased from a kit was a lighthouse which was placed in the center of the dance floor.

Of course, many of the prom supplies such as paper had to be purchased new, but the juniors also found much of their material from other sources. Shingles for the bathhouse were left over from operetta. Mike Hoover, Lyle Janzen, J. D. Dennis, Mike Liby and Steve Mickelson salvaged scrap wood to build the entrance bridge and the bridge between the banquet and dance area. Pioneer Farm and Ranch Supply donated heavy rope.

The prom cost around $2,300 which was a comparable amount to past years. The band 'Crossfire' from Hays was one of the major expenses costing $850.

Despite the extra work involved without the kit, the prom had good support from the juniors. Sponsor, Steve Wedel, said, 'We had good support from the class with about fifty students helping out.'

1. A bridge between the Banquet area and dance floor highlighted the theme 'Sail On.'
2. During the Banquet, Mrs. Rein hands sophomore Penny Habacker a pitcher of iced tea.

3. Reaching high from their ladders, juniors Mike Liby, Kevin Dilmore, J. D. Dennis, Mark Crane, Mike Kaiser, Theresa Callahan and LaMonna Hahn hang the ceiling over the banquet area

4. Providing banquet entertainment, Donna Reynolds and Reg Konrade sing 'Sail Away'.

5. Teddi Bankes, David Bond, Karen Hettenbach, Kenny Thompson, Kelli Park and Steve Mickelson enjoy dancing at the post Banquet dance

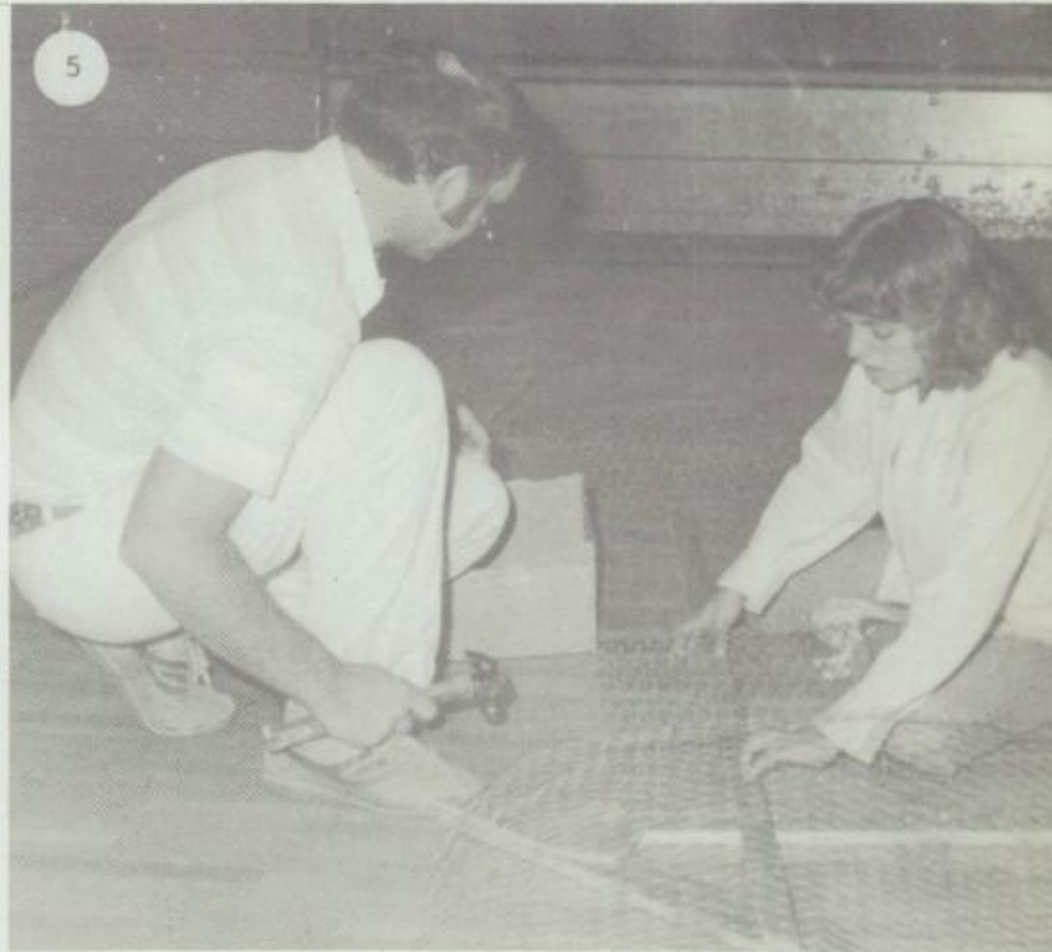

1. As an entrance to the Prom area, a bridge and a sailboat accent the theme 'Sail On.'

2. Junior Janelle Shouse hangs streamers for the canopy in preparation for prom.

3. Servers Tim Hinkle and Linda Liby serve the main course to Robert Lehner, Mark Janzen and Robert Callaway.

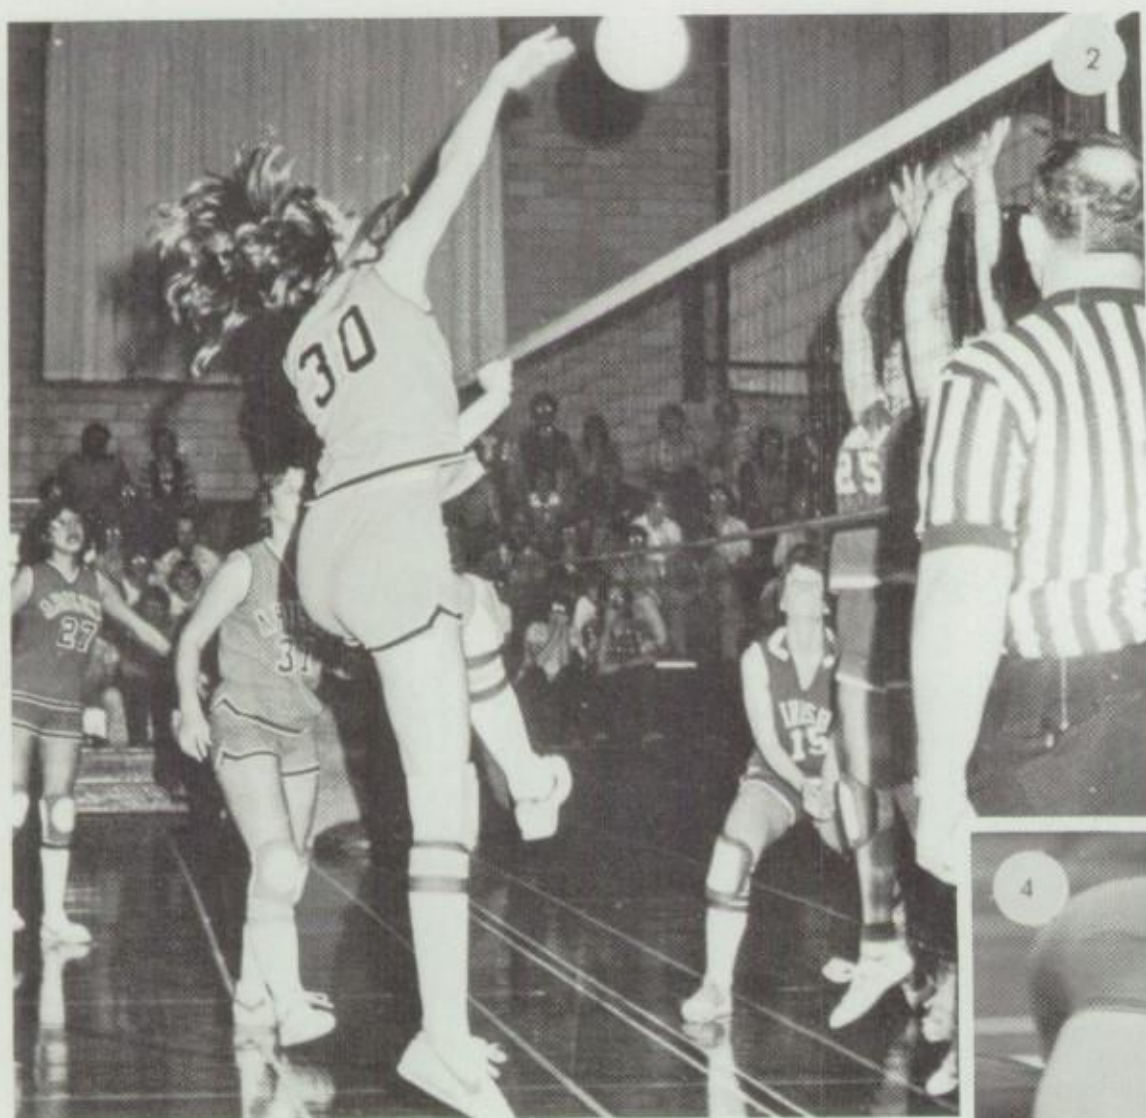

4. Dancers enjoy music provided by 'Crossfire.
5. Sponsor Steve Wedel and Jan Strunk attach chicken wire to a boat frame.
6. High above the gym floor, Brian Chatham tosses a streamer to a fellow classmate.

Pokes Defend NCKL Trophy

At the conclusion of the winter sports season the Cowboy athletic teams had not placed lower than second in any NCKL sport. In the race for the all league trophy the pokes had 12½ points as compared to Clay Center in second place with 27½ points.

The Cowboys placed first in volleyball, boy's basketball, girls basketball and tied for first with Chapman in girls tennis. The Abilene squads which placed second were boy's cross country, girl's cross country, football and wrestling.

1. Laurie Rorabaugh volleys at the net while Natalie McDonald waits for a return in warming up for the Abilene Invitational.
2. In the championship game against Chapman, Carla Wieters slams a spike to add to the game winning total.
3. At the sub-state basketball tournament, Coaches Greg Wade and Mike Padgett give advice to the Cowgirls during a time out.
4. Sophomore Chris Sullivan tries to turn Johnny Rosa with a chicken wing at the Chapman Dual.

Pokes Return To State Playoffs

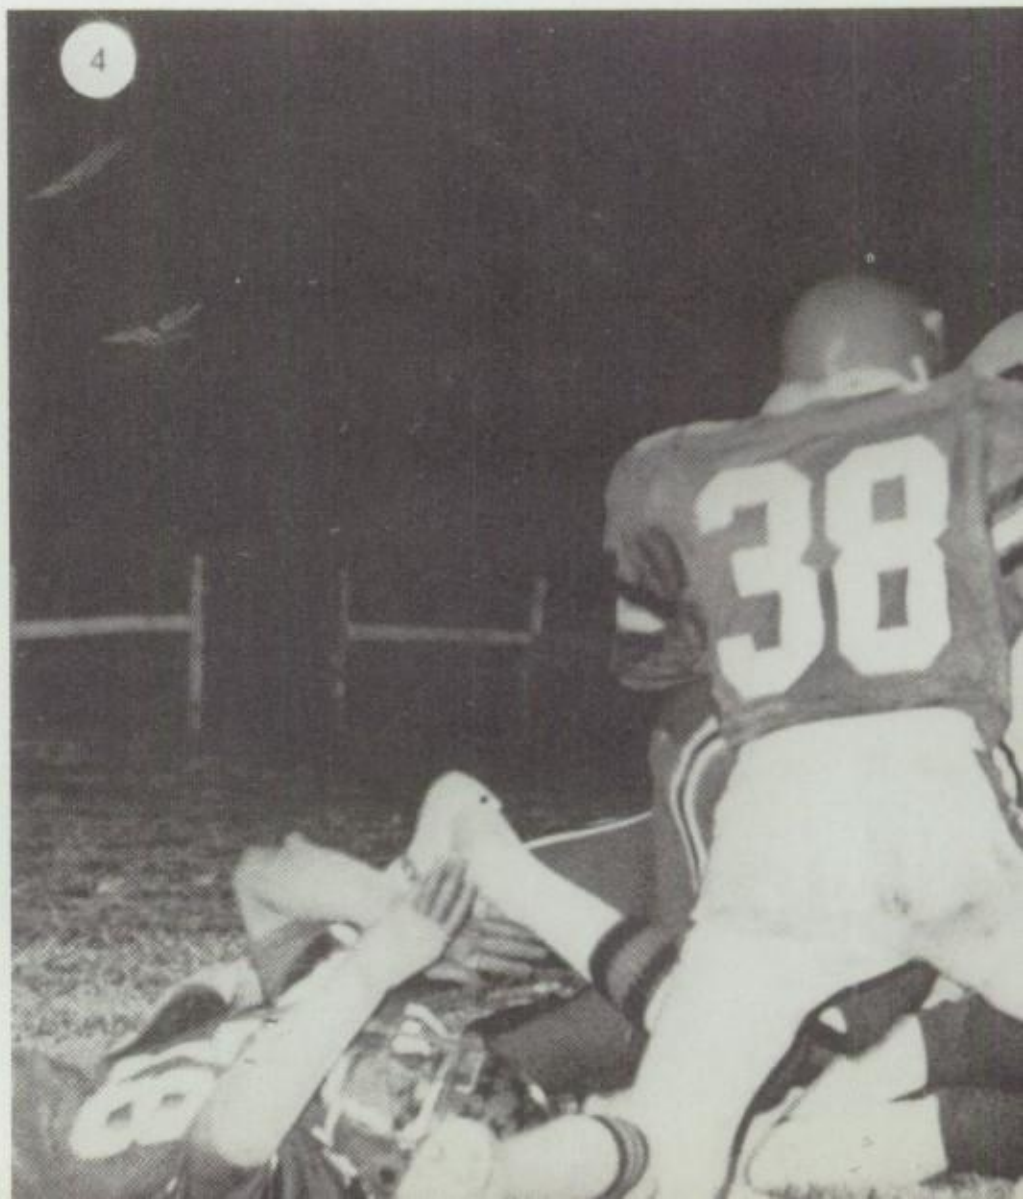

Cowboy gridders completed the regular season with a record of 7-1 and advanced to the state play-offs. In the district action the Pokes lost a thrilling game, 24-22 to the Perry-Lecompton Kaws.

At the half of the district game, the Cowboys led 7-3 and in the third quarter increased that lead to 15-3. Perry-Lecompton came back to score two touchdowns to the Cowboys one and then scored again with 59 seconds left in the game.

The Cowboy's main season's goal was to get into the play-offs. This meant practicing in the "Dustbowl" and not losing more than one game. After the heartbreaking loss to Clay Center, 20-7, the Pokes had an added pressure on Friday nights.

Despite the Pokes taking second in league, the defense ranked first. It allowed an average of only 5.8 points per game. This defensive effort was present in all of the Pokes' games, but even more so in the games against Belleville and Concordia.

In the Belleville game, the only score came on a defensive touchdown, which gave the Cowboys an 8-0 win. Against Concordia the Pokes had two defensive stands, winning the game 13-6. As Coach Dennis said, "All in all, it was a really good season."

B-team Finishes In Three-way Tie

Cowboy B-teamers completed the season with a 4-1 record, ending up with a three-way tie for first in league with Concordia and Clay Center. Coach Bruce Harding explained, 'The Cowboys had some high points and some low points during the year.'

Highlight of the season was a 22-0 victory over previously undefeated Concordia. The disappointing part of the season was losing to Clay Center 8-14 after leading 8-0 at the half.

Freshmen started the season slowly, with only 8 people going out, but the team acquired 6 more players. Coach Dave Furukawa said, 'It was a fair year and I enjoyed coaching.' Frosh finished with a 2-4 record, keeping up and playing with the best teams.

Coach Steve Wedel said, 'By the end of the season the kids believed in themselves and knew what it was to win.'

3. Ralph Ward (77) lunges to tackle his opponent.

Pokes Run With Consistency

Consistency characterized the cross country season. The boy's team finished second in every meet with the exceptions of Russell and State.

On why the harriers finished second so often this season, Coach Ken Russell said, 'I thought we lacked overall leadership. We didn't have that 'killer' instinct.'

Low point of the season for the Pokes however, was a third place finish at Russell. Coach Russell felt it was the turning point of the season as performances and attitudes improved after that meet.

The high-point of the season was a second place finish at regionals held on the home course.

Russell felt the girls also ran well with Diane Kelly leading the way. He also cited the Freshman girls for running extremely well.

At State the boys' team finished sixth, but no boys were in the top ten. The girls team, led by Kelly who ran fifth, finished ninth.

Russell stated about the season as a whole, 'We had a very respectable season, but we could have done better.'

Wilson, Cox Repeat State Title

Martha Wilson, senior, and DeAnn Cox, sophomore, returned to capture the state doubles title for the second consecutive year. The doubles team, which had been together for two years, finished the season with a record of 32 wins and 5 losses.

Also finishing high at state, Laurie Rorabaugh, junior, defeated Kim Black of Chapman on the way to a third place in singles. Rorabaugh finished the season with a record of 23 wins and 14 losses, compiling her best record since her freshman year.

The team also tied with Chapman for the number one spot in the NCKL. Personal scores found

Wilson and Cox finishing first, Rorabaugh finishing second, the number two doubles team of Molly Veal and LaMonna Hahn finishing first in their division, and Natalie McDonald, number two singles player, finishing fifth.

Coach Judy Foltz stated that she really wasn't surprised at the good outcome, 'I just expected to do that well,' she said.

In the regular season the varsity went to eight meets and the freshman attended four. Among some of the results was a first place finish at Concordia and a first place finish over Chapman by one point at the Abilene Invitational.

Cowgirls Grab First League Title

For the first time in its six-year history the girls volleyball team finished the season with a league title. The team went undefeated in NCKL, compiling a 6-0 record.

In overall competition, the Cowgirls produced an 11-3 record, which included losses to Lindsborg, Junction City and Clay Center. The Cowgirls took home a fifth place trophy at Herington and were beaten out by Clay Center during semi-finals at sub-state. This was the team's best overall record ever, and it recorded the most victories in one season.

Coach Jerry Brinker felt that competition was as tough as it has been in the past, and attributed much of this team's success to new nets which allowed more work to get done at practice.

First-year teacher Jacque Peterson coached the B and C teams. Concerning her experiences as a first-year coach she said, 'It was real exciting to go undefeated in league for a first-year coach.'

Besides team honors several Cowgirls received individual honors themselves. JoAnn Whitehair and Carla Wieters were selected to the all-league team, and Karen Hettenbach received honorable mention. Carla Wieters, JoAnn Whitehair and Karen Hettenbach also made the all-tournament team at Herington.

1. Coach Jerry Brinker talks to his team during a time out from action.
2. Carol Sherry (14) bumps the ball while Kari Anguanio (11), Jo Lindsay (12), and Carrie Altman (33) await the results.
3. Carla Wieters (30) sets up the ball while teammates Susie Sexton (33), Nancy Sanchez (27), and Karen Hettenbach (10) look on.
4. Skying high, Carla Wieters (30) spikes the game-winning point against Chapman, while JoAnn Whitehair helps out.
5. Concentrating on the ball, Nancy Sanchez (27), sets the ball up to Shelly Herbel (29), while Carla Wieters (30) watches.

Wrestlers Take Second At State

With six qualifiers for the state tournament, varsity wrestlers finished with 79 points and in a second place tie with Colby, the best finish in wrestling history.

Lyle Janzen (98), Curtis Rein (105), Josh Dawson (119), Curtis Barbee (132), Blane Palmer (155) and Miles McKee (185) competed at state.

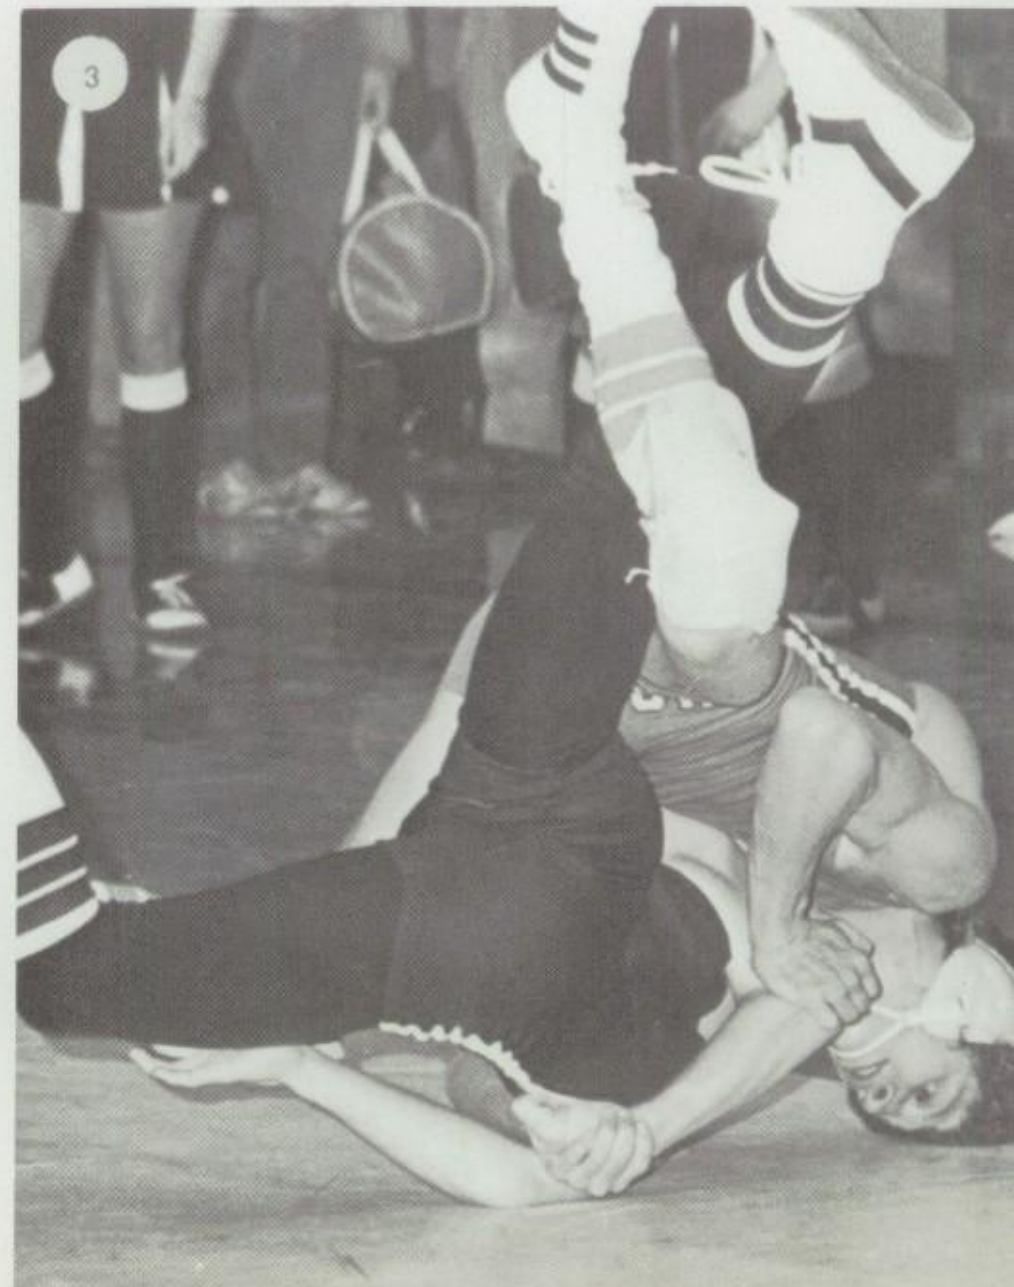

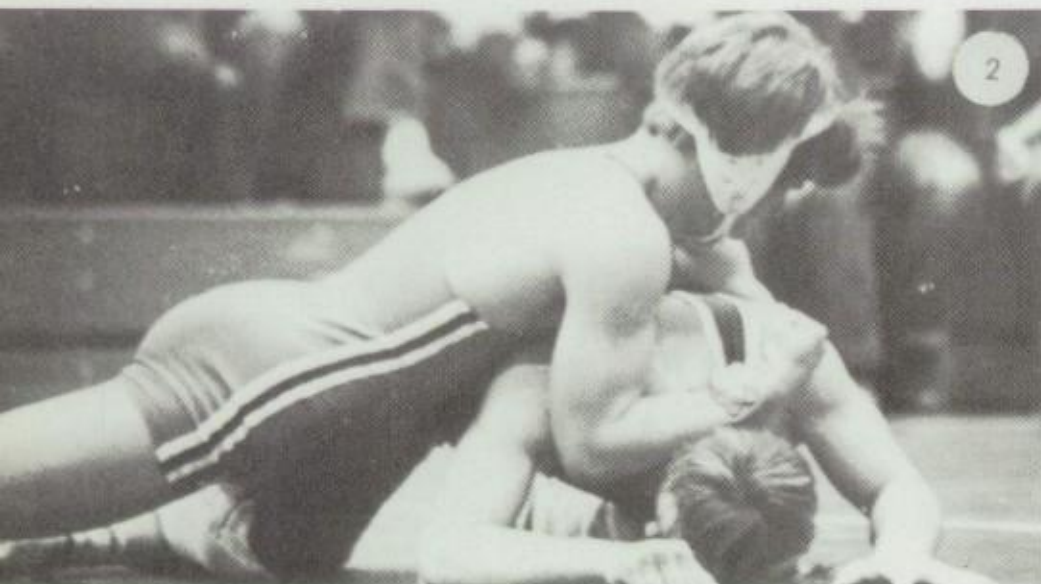

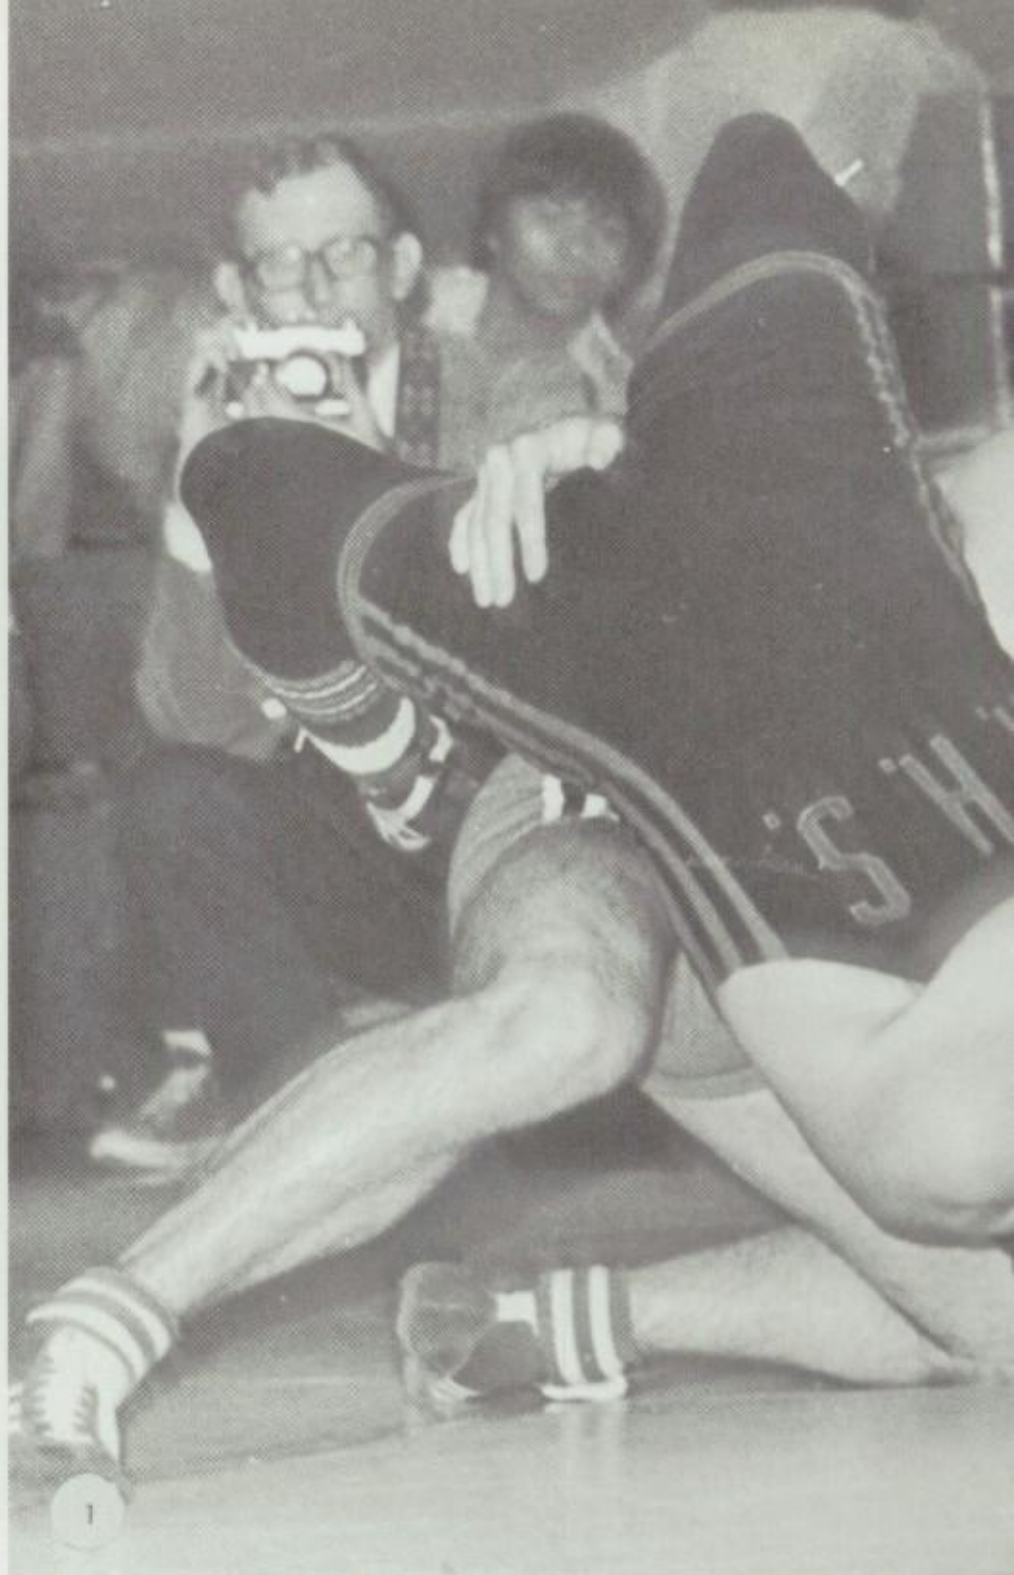

Of the six wrestlers, five placed in the top four. Barbee won two matches and lost two, scoring four points for the team but failing to place.

Palmer, with an undefeated record of 24-0, lost a decision to Atwell of Norton by overtime criteria to take second place. Rein, 21-5, also placed second losing to Kinsley of Hiawatha in the finals.

Wrestling for third was McKee (19-4-1). Janzen (16-5) and Dawson (21-8) won fourth place.

At the sub-state and regional competition the Pokes placed second and third respectively. They had four first place finishes at sub-state. Coach Furukawa said, 'Our season turned around at sub-state. We felt that we could place at state.'

Wrestlers ended the season second in the league with their only loss to Concordia. 'This made the difference in the season. It gave us determination to do better and pull together as a team. We had a bunch of good kids with a lot of experience,' Furukawa commented.

1. Blane Palmer (155) crushes Lindhorst of Marysville. He later pinned him in the second period.

2. Inflicting a head grinding hold, Curtis Barbee (132) tries to turn Hoffman of Chapman. Barbee won 8-0.

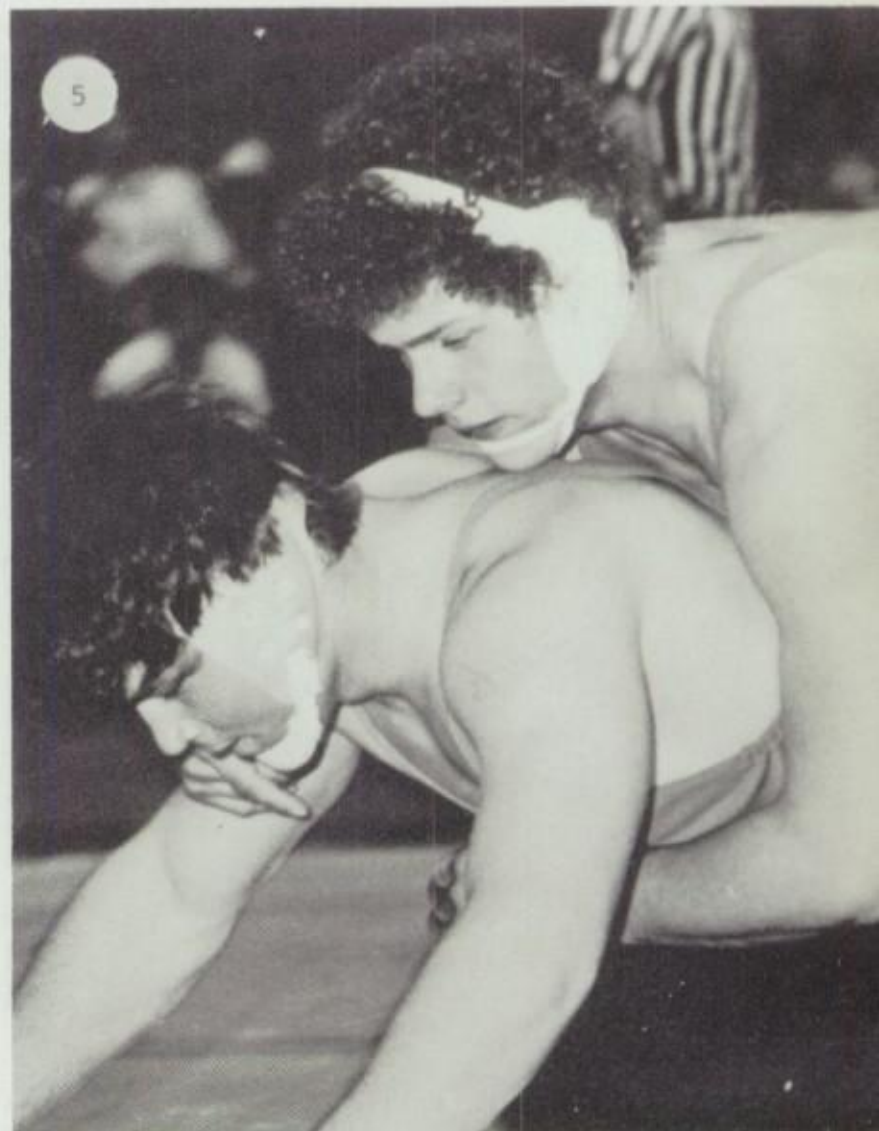

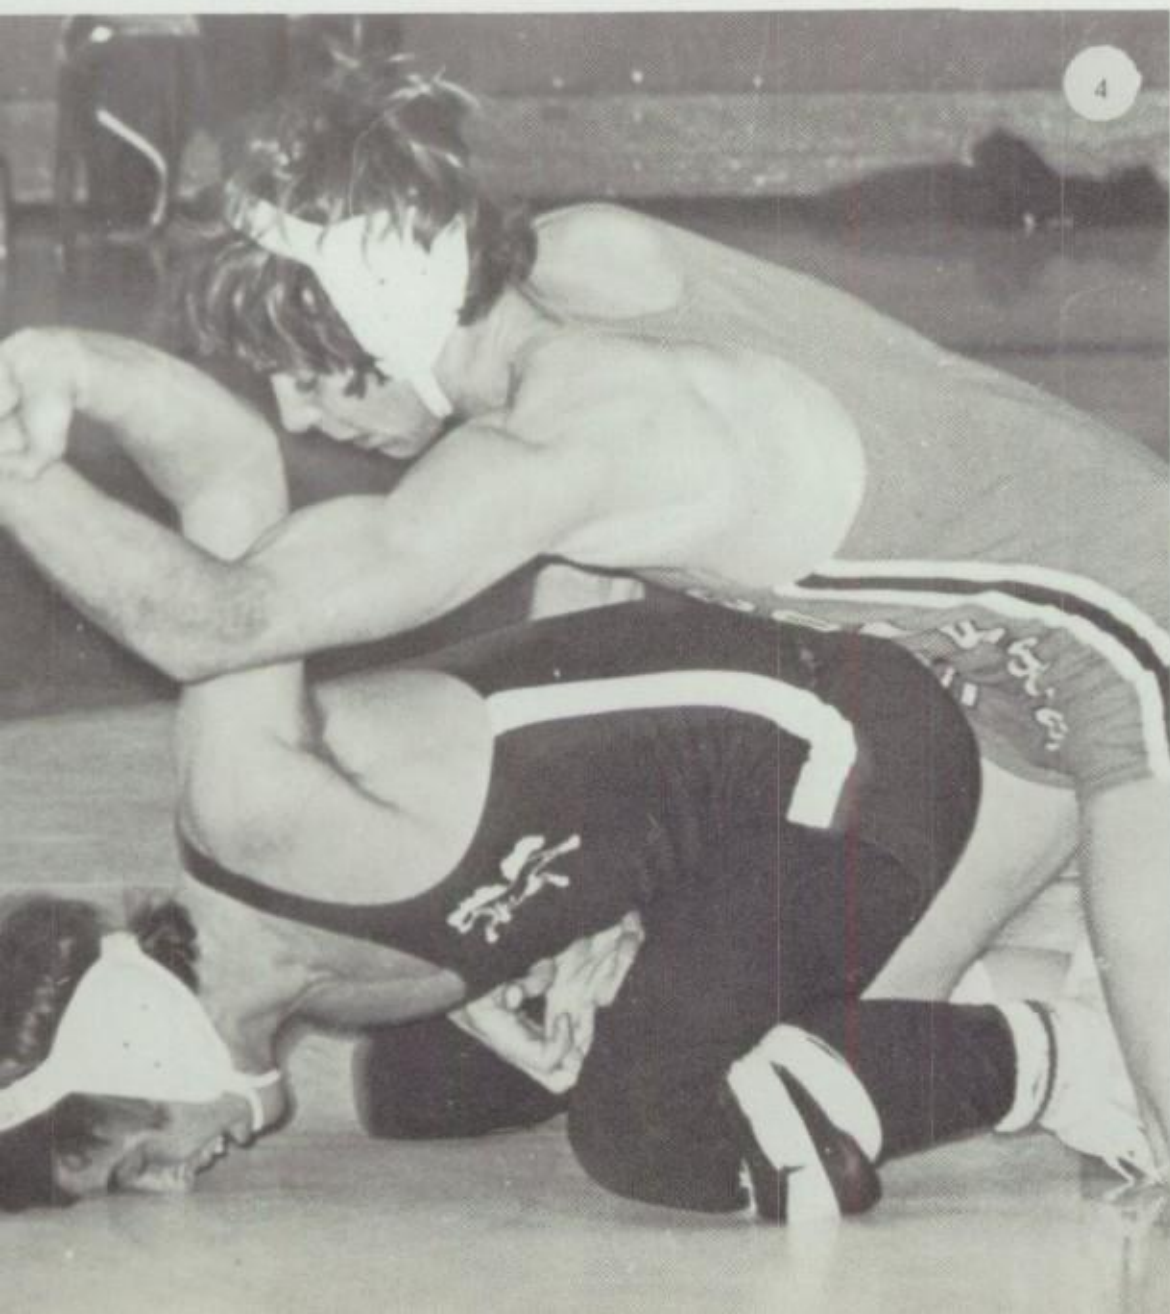

3. Curtis Rein (105) executes a backbreaking move on Starnes of Salina Central in the Salina Central and Manhattan Triangular. Rein won 4-0.

4. Senior 119 pounder Josh Dawson puts agonizing pressure on McClintock of Salina Central. Dawson won by a fall in the second period.

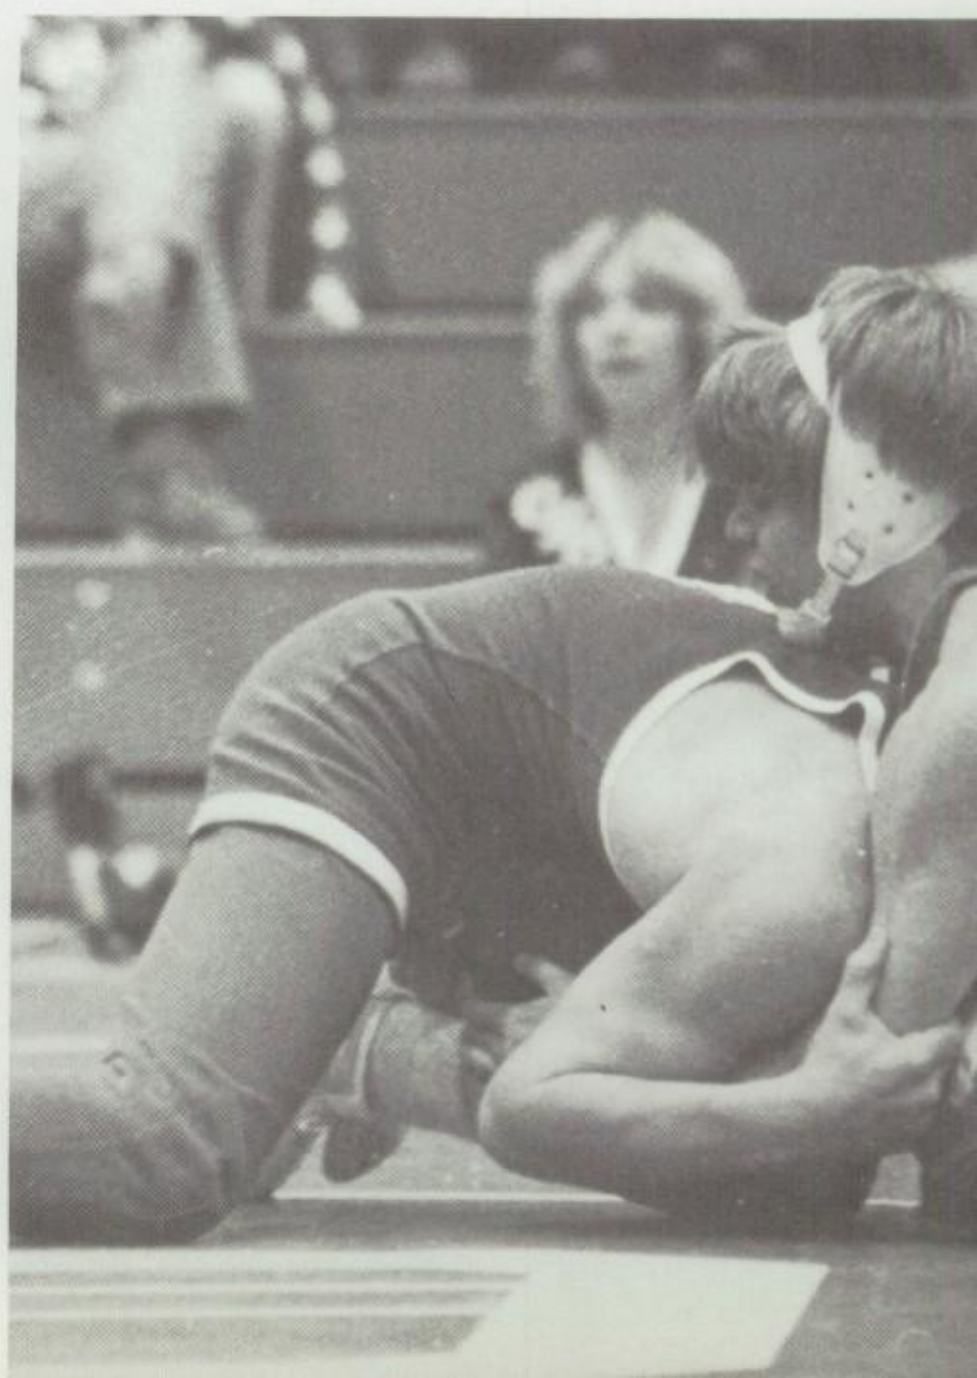

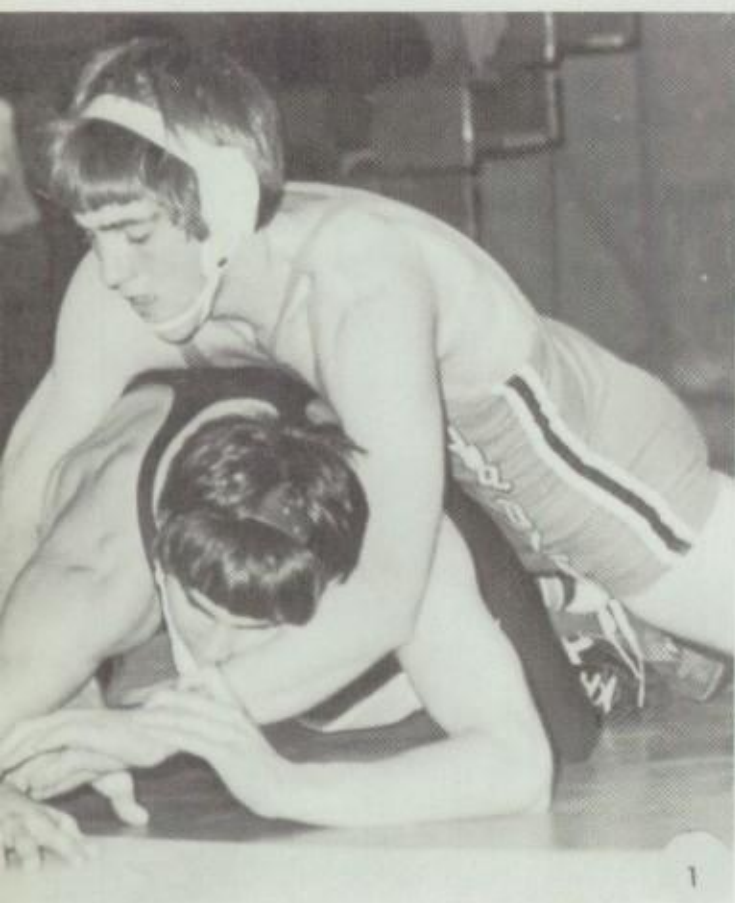

5. Miles McKee (185) wrestles against Wiles of Fredonia in the consolation finals at the state tournament.

B-team Wrestles In Two Tournaments

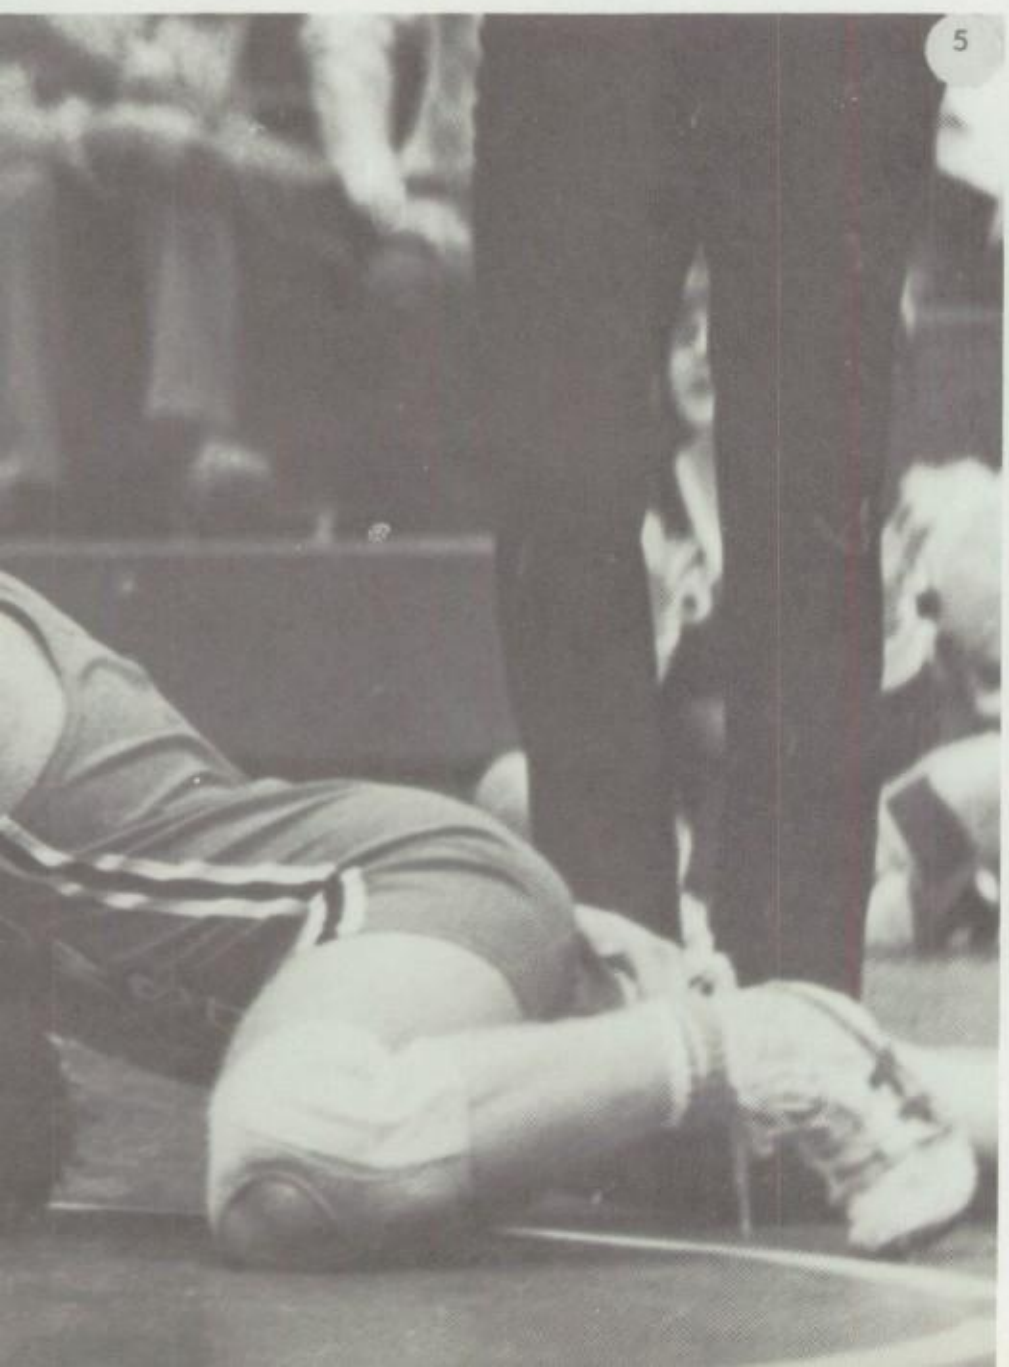

Lack of opponents restricted the B-team wrestlers. Besides the AHS B-team Tournament and the Junction City Junior Varsity Invitational, the B-team was forced to wrestle only exhibition matches before varsity contests.

B-team wrestlers took first in their own tournament by totaling 138 points with Salina South coming in second with 116 points.

The Cowboys had three first place finishes in the tourney. Chris Breen (126), Dan Meysenburg (155) and Bruce Garten took first in the 167 pound weight class by beating teammate Kurt Wetzel in the finals.

Other second place finishes besides Wetzel were Tra Little (98), Jeff Collie (105), Leon Sanders (132) and Ralph Ward (185). Chris Sullivan (112), John Henry (119) and Lonnie Cook (138) took third place finishes.

It was the first time for the Cowboys to wrestle in the Junction City tournament. Junction City didn't keep any team scores but the Cowboys had a couple of high finishes with Sullivan finishing second and Breen and Lonnie Creach (119), coming in third. Little, Wetzel and Sanders finished fourth.

4. Paul Whitehair, Junior 138 pounder, rides his opponent with a cross body. Whitehair dislocated his elbow at the Augusta tournament and was out for the rest of the year.

5. Mangeling his opponent, Roger Heinecke goes on to win another match. Roger was beat out in the regional tournament at Clay Center because of an injury.

6. Junior 126 pounder J.D. Dennis ties up his Salina Central challenger in preparation for a take-down.

Pokes Win First Title In 24 Years

First year basketball coach Scott Stein turned the previous years' mediocre 6-6 record into the Pokes' first outright league title in nearly a quarter of a century.

Stein credited this turn-around to the fact that his team played with great intensity, and that they realized what they had to do early to win games.

Compiling an impressive 11-1 league record and a 17-5 overall record, the Cowboys lost their first league game of the season to Clay Center and then never looked back as they won 11 straight.

Stein thought that their biggest win of the year was in the second league game with Clay Center. After playing a couple of disappointing games in the Salina Invitational, this important league victory brought the Pokes back to life.

Citing their depth, excellent skill people, and good team play as key parts of the winning season, Stein said, 'I'm really pleased for the kids. They deserve the credit.'

Sophomores Nab Tournament Win

Winning the Chapman Tournament for the fifth straight year marked the high point of the C-team's season.

In compiling their 7-2 record, the C-team lost to Chapman and Wamego, but also defeated each of these teams during the season.

The freshman "A" squad compiled a record of 3-10, defeating Herington once and Chapman twice. The "B" squad finished the season defeating Chapman and Sacred Heart once and Concordia twice, ending with 4-4 record.

Freshman Coach Ken Russell said, 'There are alot of good potential basketball players, if they work at it.'

4. Trying to get control of the jump ball, Jerry-Patterson (15) strains as he reaches high while team member Steve Eckman (52) waits for action.

5. In an attempt to score, Tim Wieters (22) prepares to shoot over the attempted block of a Clay Center player.

Cowgirls Capture Undefeated Title

For the first time in the eight year history of girls' basketball, the team finished the league with an undefeated 12-0 record and a league title. The roundballers also knocked off number one seeded Ellsworth in the sub-state finals to win a trip to state.

Following the sub-state championship during a close game with Santa Fe Trail, a 46-45 loss knocked the Cowgirls out of the state Tournament.

In overall competition, the Cowgirls compiled a record of 19-3. Besides Santa Fe Trail, the other two losses came from Wichita East and Emporia, 6A and 5A schools in the Emporia Invitational where the Cowgirls finished fourth.

Coach Greg Wade attributed much of the team's success to 'a lot of hard working seniors and experience.'

Besides team honors, several individual honors were received. Diane Kelly made the all tournament team at Emporia. For all league selections Kelly and Martha Wilson made the first team with Vikki Hahn and Molly Veal receiving honorable mention. Kelly also played on the east team at the Kansas Basketball Classic.

1. Outjumping her opponent, Diane Kelly (15) controls the tip while Deann Cox (21), Karen Hettenbach (10) and Molly Veal (14) await the results.
2. Martha Wilson (11) hits Deann Cox (21) with a pass on the fast break during the 69-52 victory over Clay Center.

3. In a shuffle on the floor, Raelyn Racy (44) tries to get control of the ball while Jeanine Dunn (33) looks on.
4. Over attempted blocks by Clay Center players, Natalie McDonald (41) puts up a shot.

Frosh Capture Tourney Again

Freshmen girls basketball team won the Abilene Freshmen Invitational on February 12-14 for the second consecutive year. They defeated Chapman in the first round and Clay Center in the finals.

Coach Mike Padgett said he was proud of the freshmen girls. 'Before the tournament the freshmen hadn't been playing really well, and they came back and played two good games to win the tournament,' Padgett said.

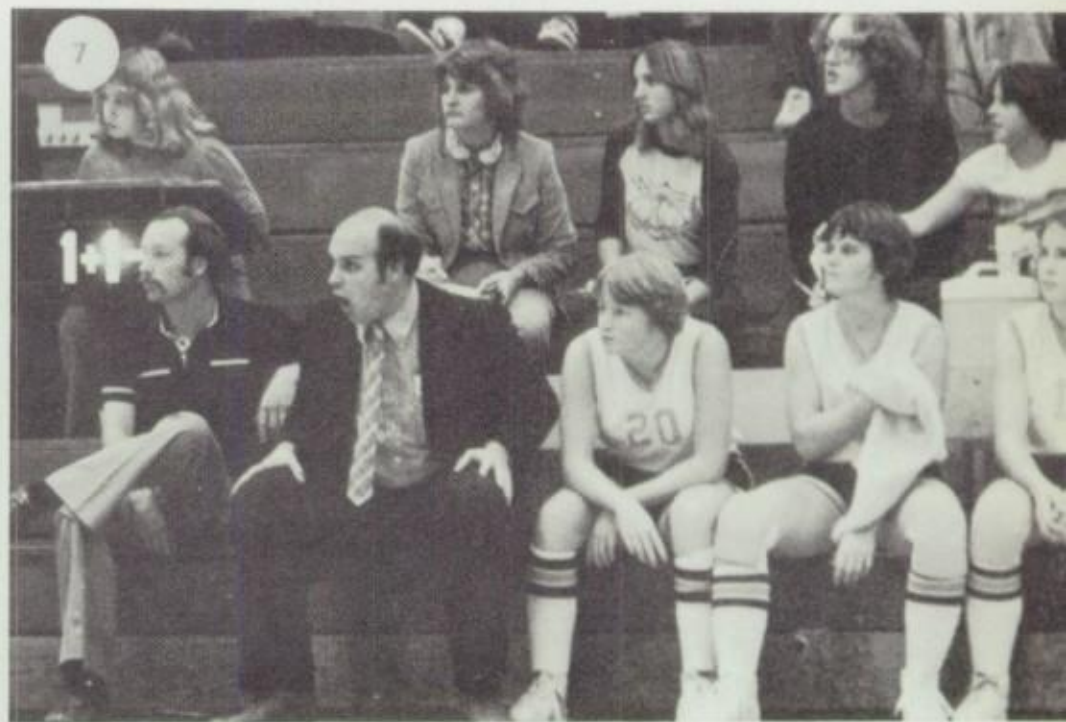

Padgett also said the freshmen really improved fundamentally throughout the season. 'The most noticeable improvement was defensively,' he said.

Including the two tourney wins, the freshmen ended the season at 5-4.

After winning six of their first seven games, the B-team lost five of their last eight to end the season with a 9-6 record.

'The B-teamers played well the first half of the season, but inconsistency cost them games in the second half of the season,' said Padgett.

Padgett said he enjoyed coaching and looks forward to next year.

5. Stretching high, Lori Park (34) blocks the shot of a Wamego Red Raider while Carol Sherry (32) comes up to assist.

6. Over the heads of the Council Grove Braves, Deann Cox (20) passes to Natalie McDonald (32) who leads the fast break.

7. Coach Greg Wade express his displeasure during a game, while Mike Padgett, Deann Cox, JoAnn Whitehair and Karen Hettenbach look on.

Netters Place Three At State

The tennis squad completed one of the toughest seasons in its history. Playing mostly 5-A and 6-A teams, the Cowboy netters went to such tourneys as Salina Central and Highland Park.

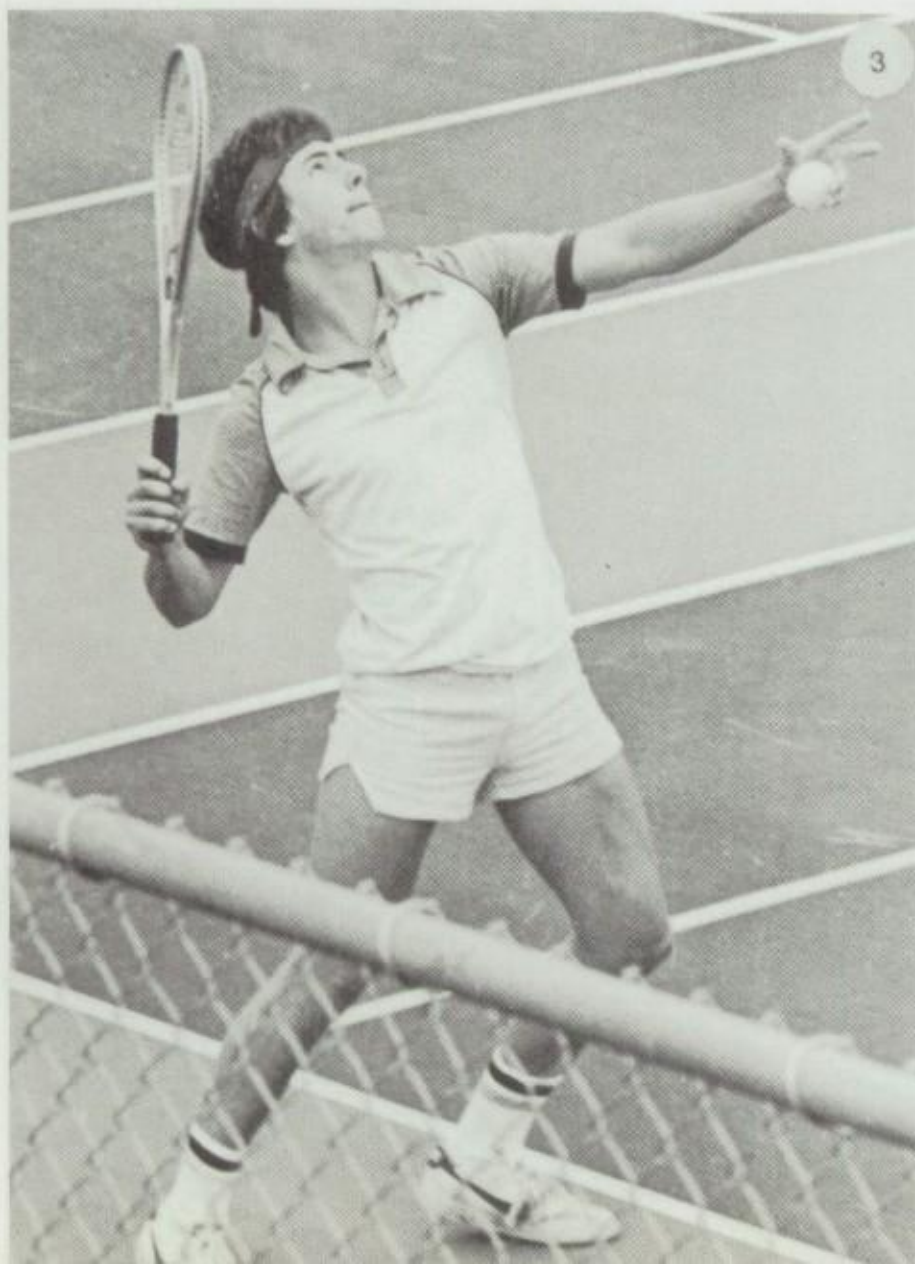

Despite the tough schedule, the Cowboys finished first in league, first in regionals and first in state competition.

Jim Medina won the 4-A State Singles Championship for the second time in three years, beating Porter Loomis of Pratt in the finals.

In doubles, John Robinson and Jerry Day finished in state with a third place. They were beaten in a close match by a Wamego team they had beaten three times before. Duane Belzer also qualified for state but did not place.

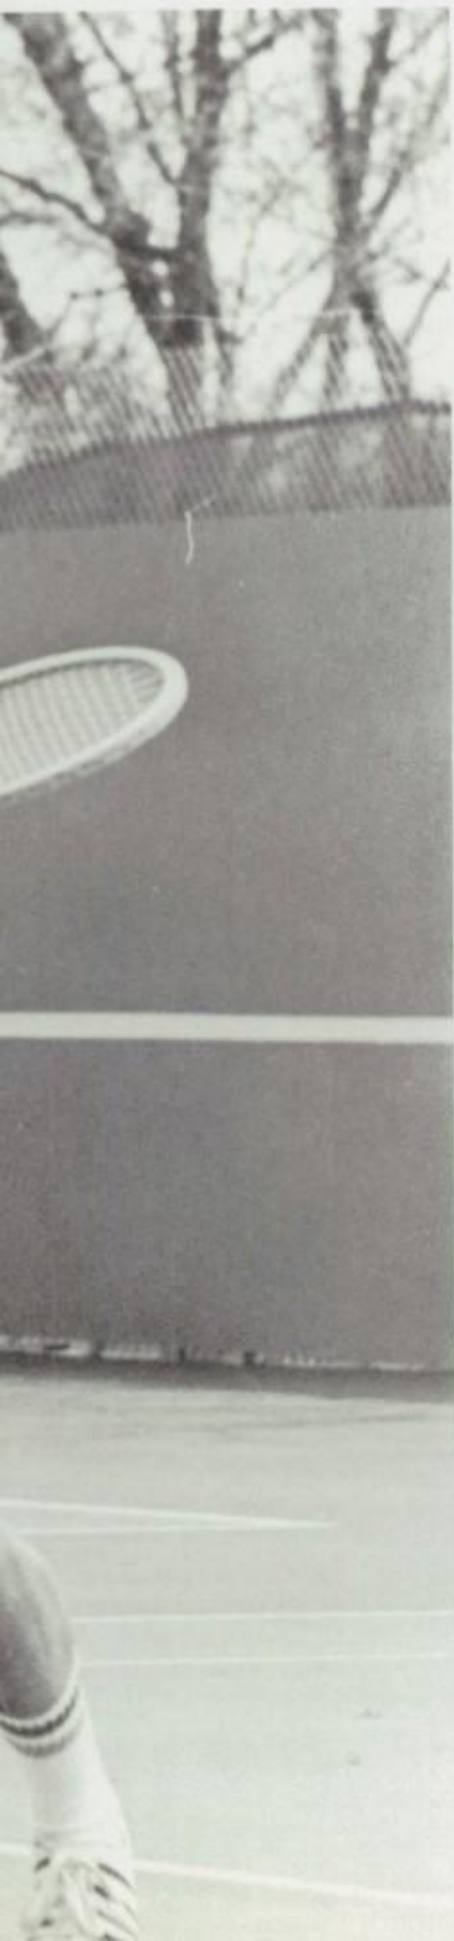

The B-team consisted mostly of first year tennis players paced by Tony Haug and Todd Gugler.

1. Jerry Day lunges for a shot while playing for third place in the Abilene Invitational. Jerry took fourth in the tourney.
2. Jim Medina prepares to slice a backhand crosscourt. Jim beat Porter Loomis in the finals to take first in Abilene's invitational.
3. With extreme concentration John Robinson serves up another ace.

Harris Wins State Title

Senior golfer Allen Harris won first medalist honors at the state tournament for the first time on grass greens in Cowboy history. Harris fired three rounds of 37 at the rain-shortened tournament in Council Grove. The Pokes placed 8th as a team.

The highlight of the season for the team was winning the league title for the first time in 3 years. Dan Meysenburg was the league medalist for the Pokes, with Andy Dodson and Harris tying for third.

"Winning league was our main goal of the season, as well as placing high at regionals. I feel that despite playing poorly at state we had a good year," said Coach Bruce Harding.

The team qualified for state by placing second at the Jefferson East regional. The Cowboys got good play from Neal Steinhauser, who was sixth medalist and Tal Donley who was eighth. Also Playing on varsity for regional and state was sophomore Mike Racy.

Two Girls Place At State Meet

The girls golf squad under the coaching of Scott Stein, ended the season with Nancy Frey placing third and Julie Arnold placing (sixteenth) at the state meet.

Although Frey was out part of the season with a blood clot in her leg, she led the squad in shooting.

Frey attended the state meet at Great Bend where she placed third with 199 for 36 holes.

An adjustment had to be dealt with by the squad and Stein. The girls needed to adjust to Stein as their new coach and he had to adjust to coaching girls instead of boys.

'The only thing that really bothered me was that I felt like I couldn't yell at girls like I can at boys. They were really a good bunch and I thought we had a fairly good season,' Said Stein.

1. Junior Nancy Frey, the squad's best shooter, lofts a wedge shot toward the green at the Abilene Country Club.

2. Concentrating on her follow through, junior Julie Arnold cracks a five iron shot down the fairway.

Frosh Girls Take League Title

Ten freshman girls ended the season with an N.C.K.L. title. League was the only freshman meet the girls attended and they finished first with 90 points.

Individuals placing first were Karen Whitehair (100 meter hurdles and long jump), Pam Sanchez (1600 meter run) and Carrie Altman (shotput).

'Although there was only one freshman track meet, the girls competed very well on a varsity level. I was very pleased with them and am very enthusiastic about next year,' said Earl Dean, girls' track coach.

The freshman boys attended seven track meets placing first in one and third or lower in all of the others.

Coach Mike Padgett said, 'It was a very frustrating season because there were never enough guys out to make a whole team. There were only four to eight people out at a time.'

Three members of the team had personal bests at the league meet. Vic Hoekman high jumped three inches higher than his best jump. Tim Engle ran the intermediate hurdles three seconds faster than his best run. Paul Ganser ran the mile 19 seconds faster and the two mile ten seconds faster than his best runs.

3. Freshman Annette Whitehair runs the anchor leg for the 400 meter relay at the Freshman League Meet.

4. Tim Wieters' facial expression shows the effort he put into his launch of the discus at a freshman track meet.

5. Freshman Vic Hoekman attempts to clear the high jump bar.

Tracksters Take Fourth At State

Paced by three underclassmen and one senior, the boys' track team placed fourth at the state meet in Wichita, May 22 and 23. The Pokes scored 31½ points, which was higher than any other league school and the highest Cowboy finish since 1968.

Junior hurdler Kent Engle placed first in 300 meter intermediate hurdles and second in the 110 meter high hurdles. He established school records in both events, 38.6 in the intermediates and 14.7 in the highs.

Distance specialists Craig Stromgren and Jason Schenck also placed high. Stromgren was second in the 800 meter run and Schenck was fourth in the 3200 meter run. Pole vaulter Jim Rogers tied for fifth in his event.

Qualifying for state took place at the rainy regional at Concordia. Besides the state qualifiers, the 3200 meter relay team of Troy Kendall, Schenck, Cliff Anderson and Stromgren also made it to state.

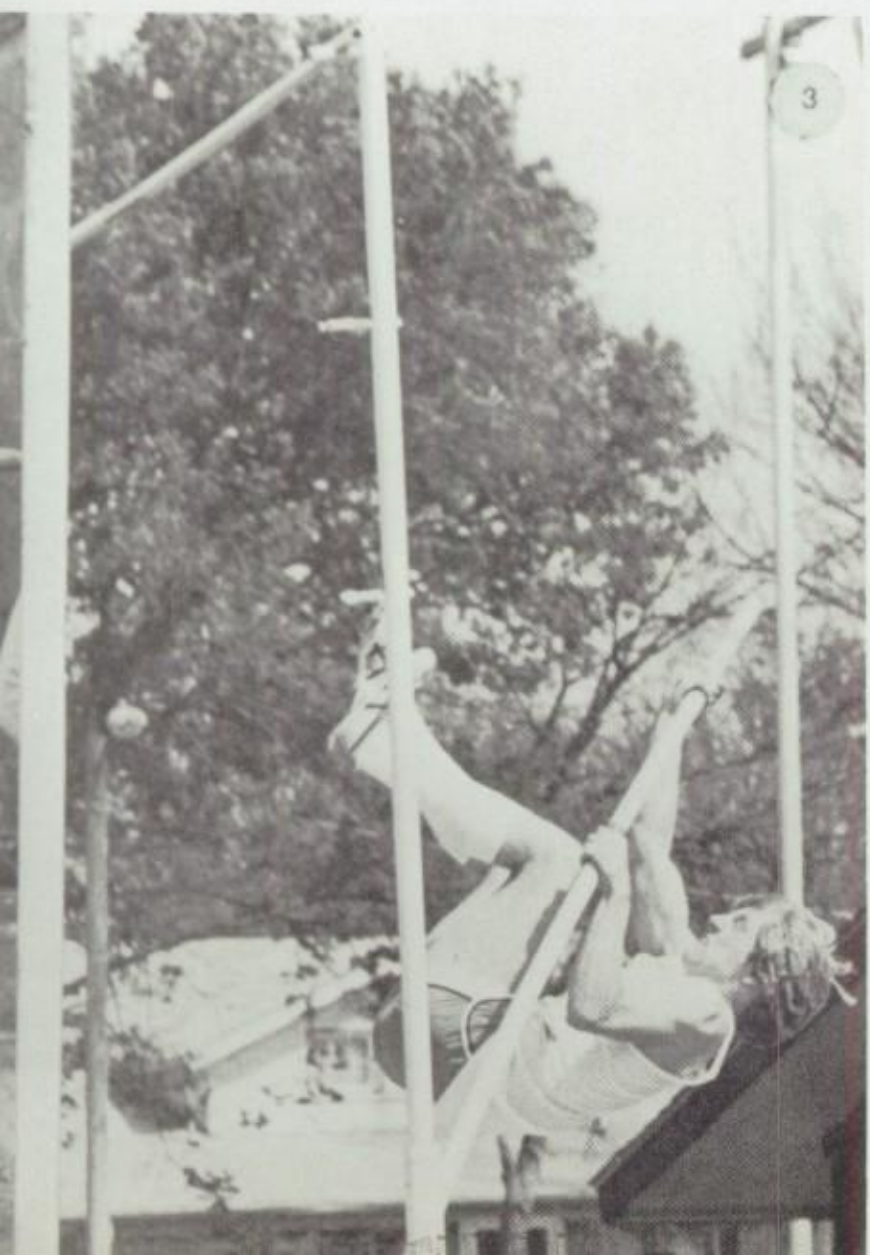

In league competition, the tracksters ran a close race for second with Clay Center and Belleville. In the final two events the Cowboys scored 14 points to take second behind Concordia.

Besides Engle's records, Schenck broke the scoring record for sophomores by grinding out 116½ points. The weight man's 400 meter relay team of Lee Copeland, Mike Kaiser, Mike Liby and Rick Prout also set a new record of 47.45.

Early Meets Top Girls' Season

Despite some early season success, the Cowgirls track team finished the season with some disappointing finishes at the league and regional track meets.

The Cowgirls finished fifth in the league meet with 56 points. Diane Kelly had a big day with a pair of firsts in the 800 meter and 1600 meter run. Sandy Lehman finished second in the high jump and fourth in the long jump while Sandra Feller took second in the 200 meter hurdles. Karen Garten scored in the weight events with a third in the shot put and fifth in the discus.

At regionals the cowgirls scored nine points to finish 14th. Garten place fourth in the shot put. Lehman placed fourth in the high jump and sixth in the long jump.

Highest finish for the Cowgirls was a first place finish at Council Grove. Besides Council Grove they finished second in Chapman Invitational; third at the Marysville Invitational; fourth at the Abilene Relays; and sixth at Minneapolis.

Two individuals set new records. Kelly broke the record in the 800 meter run by one-tenth of a second(2:25.9). Feller broke the 200 meter hurdles by four-tenths of a second(32.1).

3. Keeping one stride ahead of their opponents, Lisa Katzenmeier and Katrina Harding complete the first exchange in the 400-meter relay.

4. With good form, Karen Garten puts the shot put 33'8½" for a first place finish at the Abilene Invitational.

5. Sophomore Kim Rozalez clears a hurdle ahead of the pack in the 100-meter hurdles.

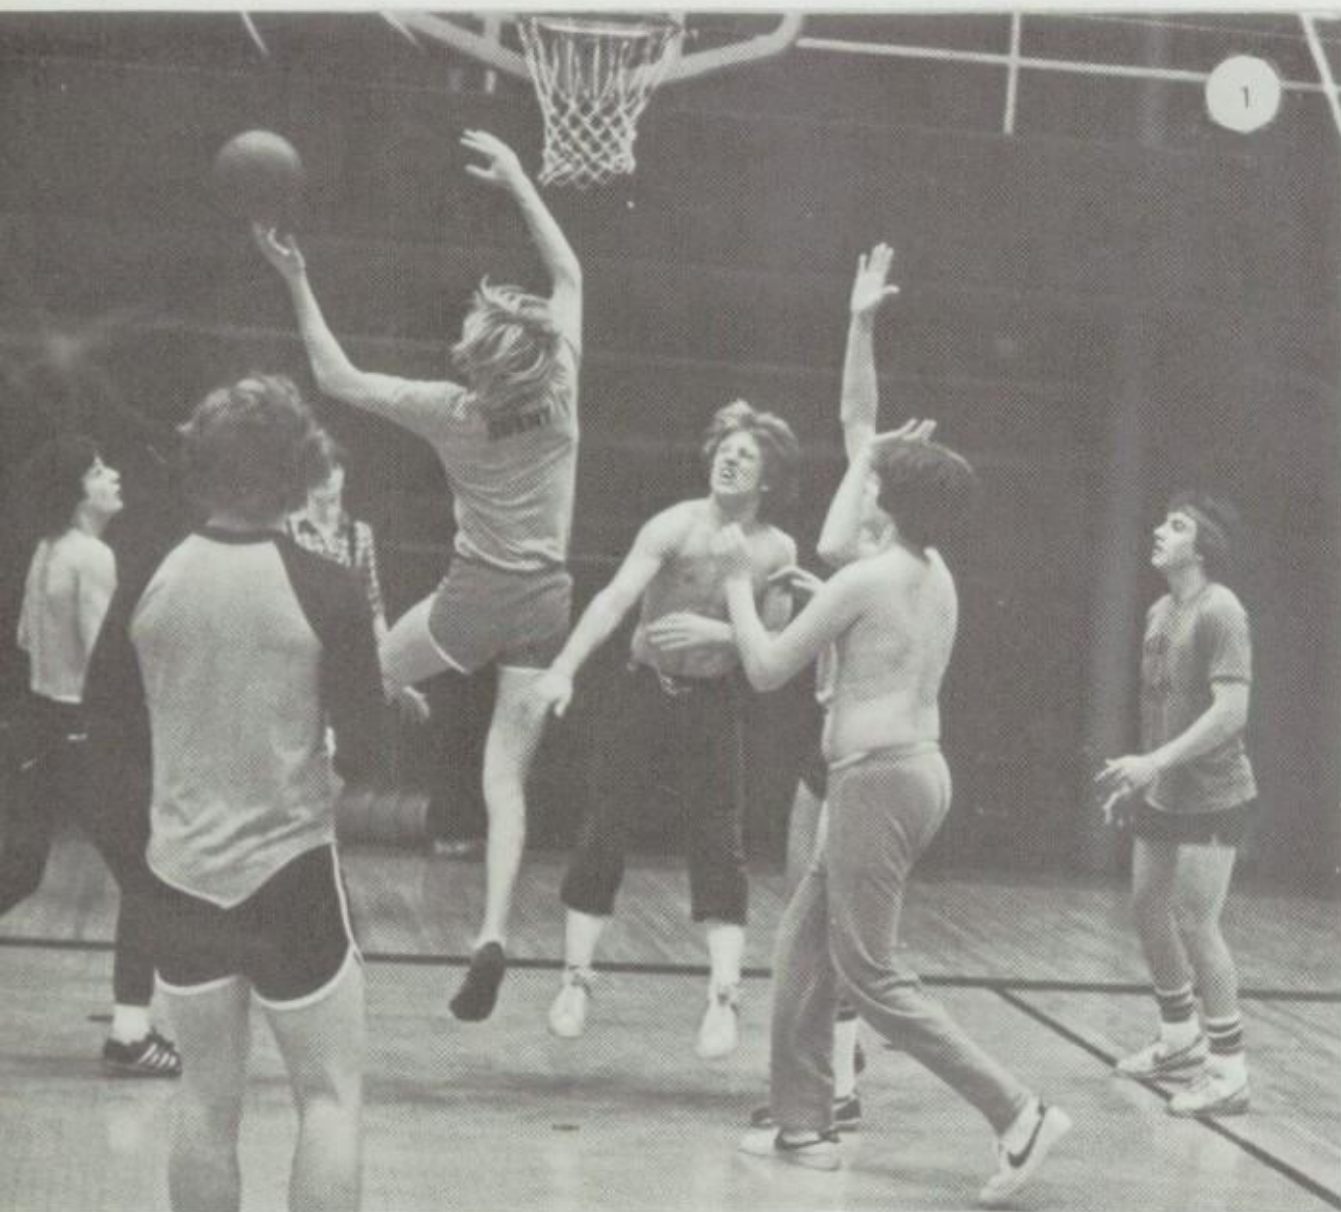

Intramurals Provide Students With Option

intramural basketball formed so that boys and girls not participating in winter sports would have an option to get involved.

Business teacher John Morando sponsored intramurals for the first time. Thirty boys signed up and were divided into four teams. Two of the teams had eight players and the other two, had seven. Two games were played every Monday night.

Seniors Don Everett, Allen Harris, Ed Mills and Jim Rogers were chosen as team captains. Everett's team finished first in the season with a record of seven and two. They were followed by Harris 5-4; Mills 4-5; and Rogers 3-6.

A tournament was planned with the winning teams playing each other and the losing teams playing each other. It was canceled, due to lack of interest.

Test Emphasizes Student Skills

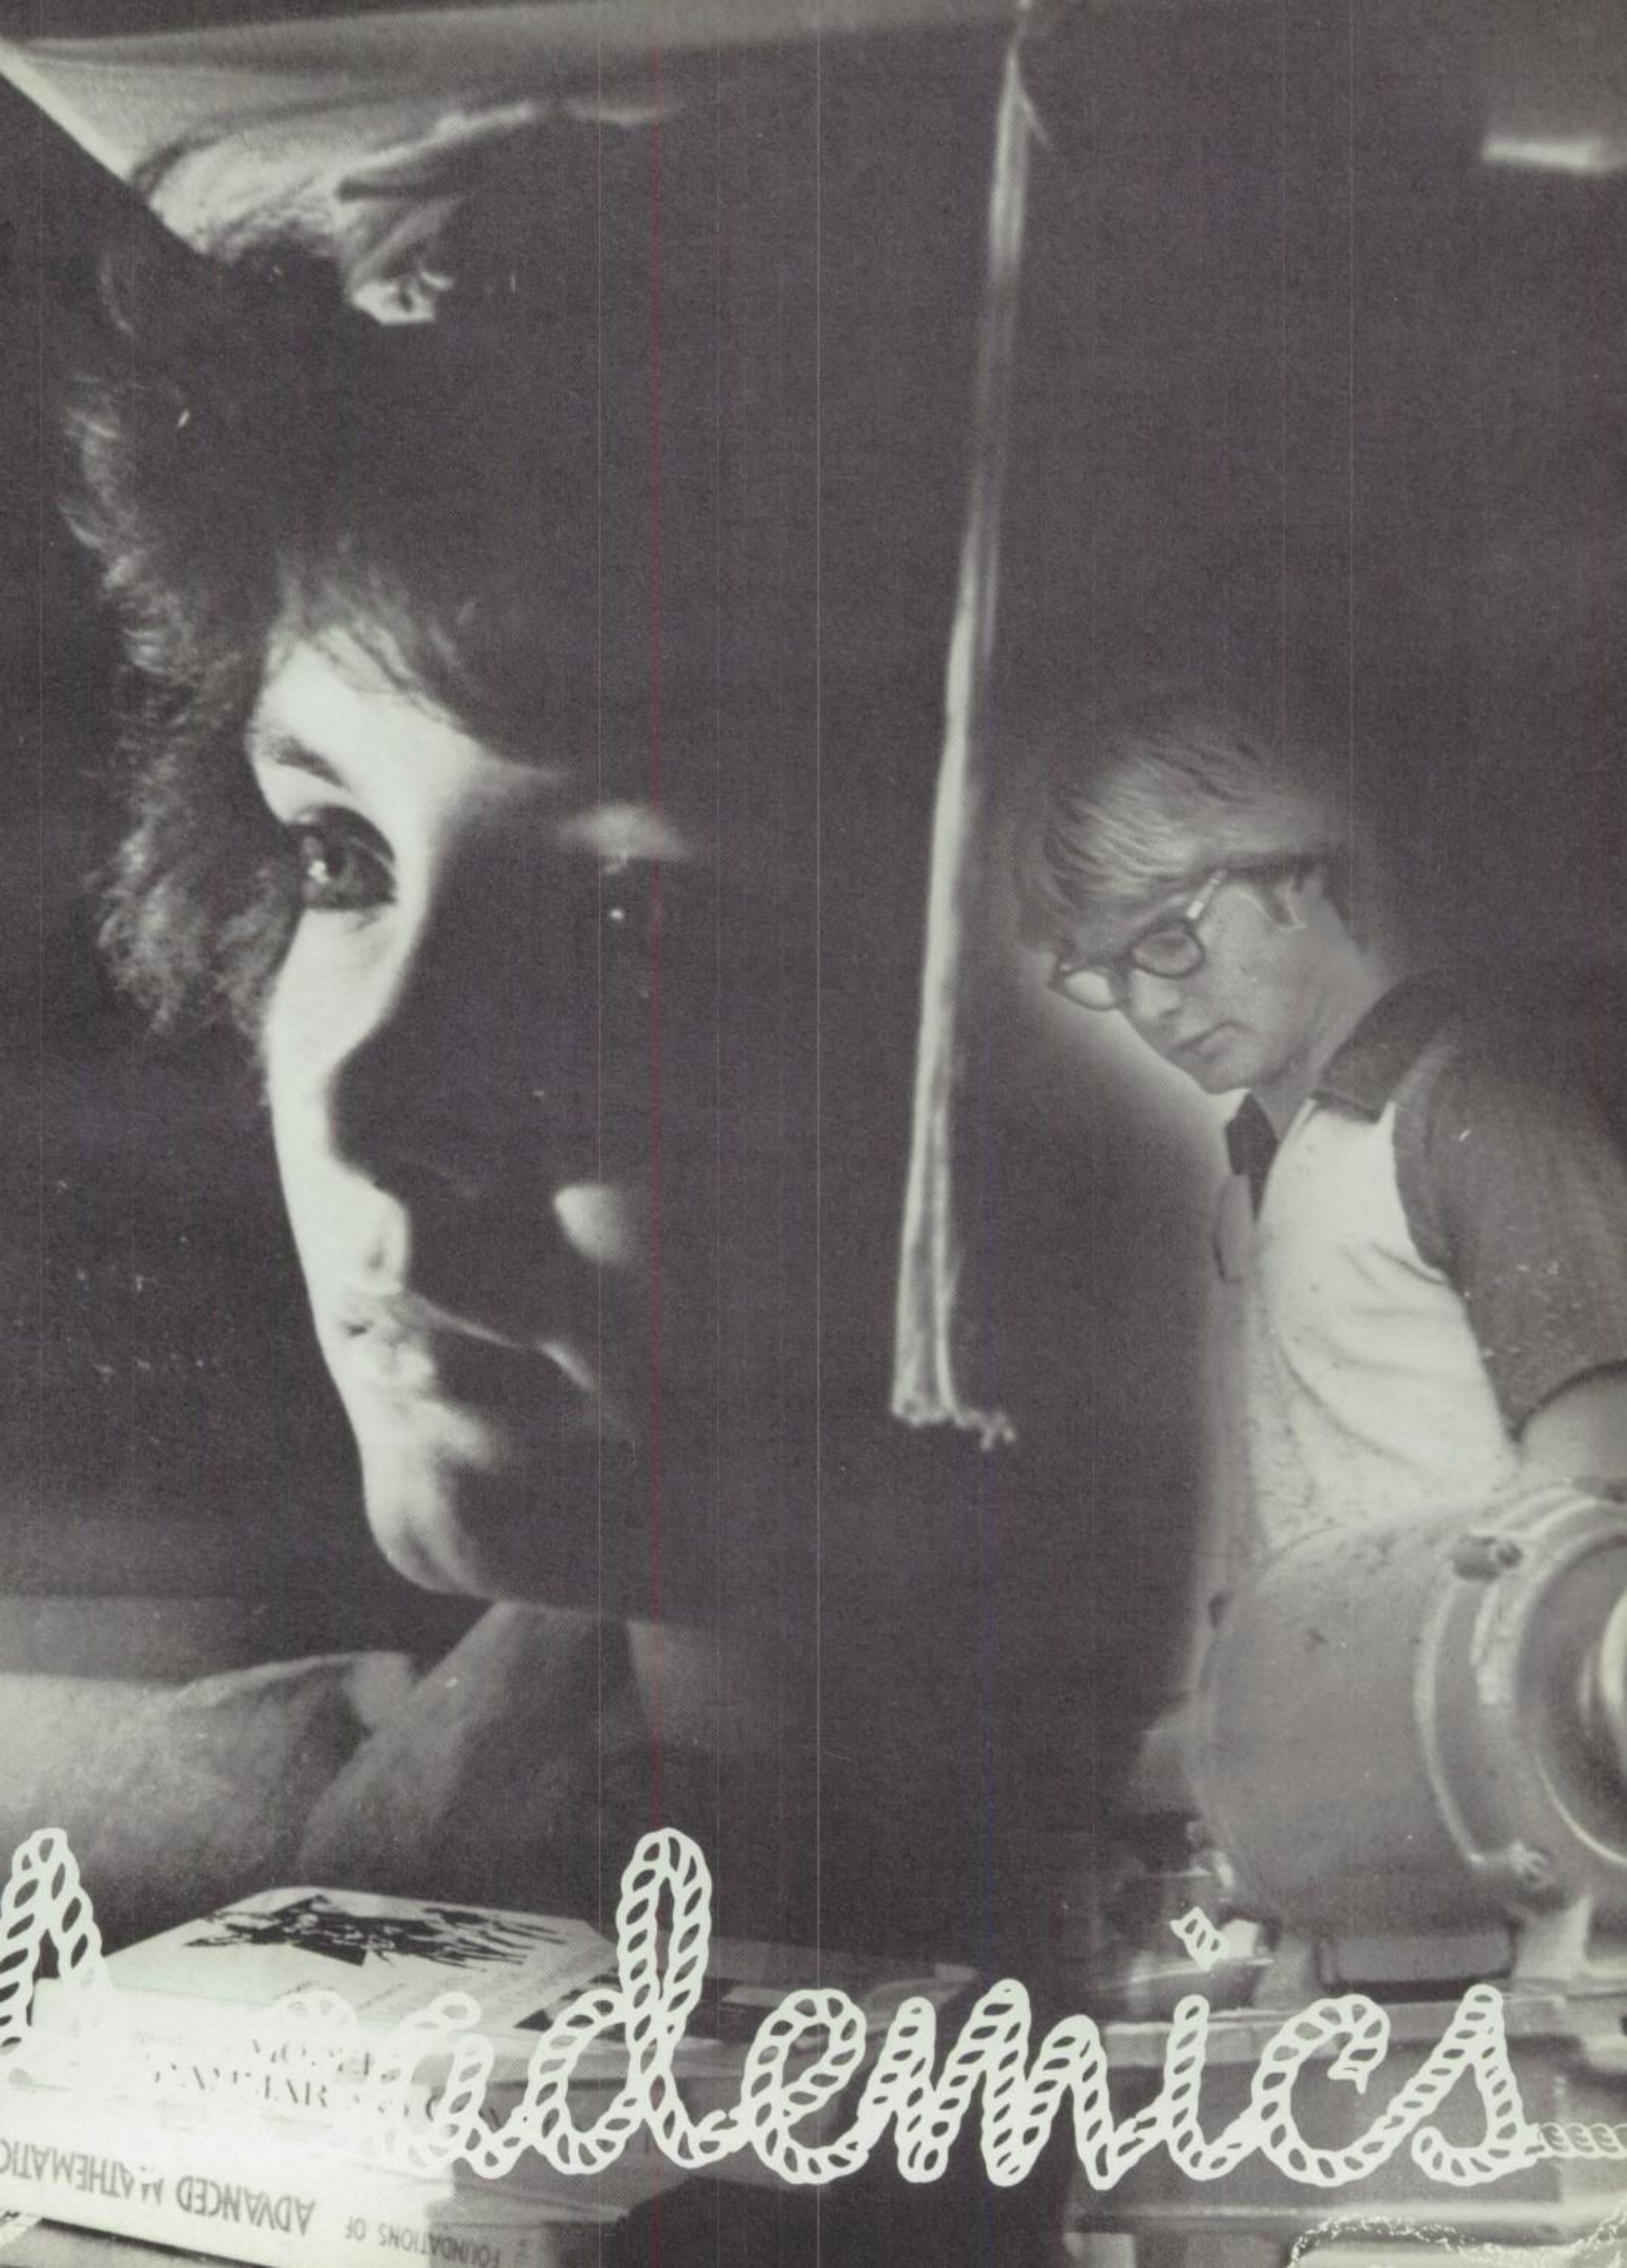

Accountability was one reason why over thirty states other than Kansas required a competency test for high school graduation. In 1980, Kansas parents and the legislature wanted to make sure they got their money's worth and that students were learning something in school.

The Competency Based Education test was the result of that desire. It was a pilot program passed by the state legislature to test students in grades two, four, six, eight and eleven in the areas of reading and mathematics.

The test measured basic learning skills in the students who took the test. After the 1980 testing the state studied and published the results of the test, debating two possibilities: state funding or mandating districts to set up their own programs.

Activities Key Bosses' Role

Involvement in the community seemed to be a role in being a good school administrator according to Principal Ken Brown and Superintendent Leo Lake.

One of Brown's primary commitments was to the Kansas State High School Activities Association (KSHSAA). He served six years on this organization and one of those as president. Two years he served on the board of directors and three years on the executive board.

Lake said, 'It is necessary to be involved with the community in my job.' He was a previous president of the Kansas Association of School Administrators (KASA). He also belonged to the Chamber of commerce, United Methodist Church, and United Association of School Administrators (UASA).

Brown agreed that involvement was necessary in his job, too. He said, "I am more aware of the changes that need to be made and how they effect the school system."

Haas Appointed Teacher Nominee

Abilene City Teacher's Association nominated Elinor Haas for the 1981 Kansas Teacher of the Year Award.

Haas was the chairman of the English department and had taught a total of twenty-four years, all at Abilene High School.

When Haas first started teaching here, she planned to stay only two years, and then move to Colorado. However, her marriage, liking Abilene and relatives in this vicinity convinced her to stay.

As a teacher, Haas expected several things from her students, including discipline, responsibility and best efforts. In return, she made herself available for help, was consistently fair and liked students.

Referring to her Teacher of the Year nomination, Haas said, 'I was very proud, honored and pleased when I found out about the nomination. I have received many congratulatory phone calls and letters from former students.'

New Teachers Join Faculty

Three teachers joined the business and social science staff: Jacque Peterson, business; Scott Stein, business; and Dave Furakawa, social science.

Peterson, a graduate of Fort Hays State University, began her first teaching job. She taught Typing, Advanced Typing, Office practice and Office Machines. She also helped as assistant volleyball coach and assistant cheerleader sponsor.

Stein taught at LaCrosse High School before moving here to teach. He taught Typing and General Business. He was hired mainly as a boy's basketball coach. Along with basketball, he coached girl's golf and boy's tennis. About Abilene he says, "It's just like teaching anywhere."

Furakawa previously taught at Mountain Valley High School in Saguache, Colorado. Along with teaching, he coached varsity wrestling.

Edberg Reviews Forty-three Years

Harold Edberg started his 33rd year of teaching at AHS and his 43rd year in the teaching field. Edberg had taught courses ranging from science, math, history, Latin, biology and agriculture. He was also principal in his earlier years, and coached baseball, basketball, football and golf.

Commenting on the system of education, Edberg said, 'Some changes have been for the good, and some changes have not been for the good of education.' He said it seems like it was worth it in the end when his students go out and become successful.

When he first started teaching he was only 2 to 6 years older than his students. He doesn't know if he or his students have changed over the years. Edberg stated, 'Students are living in a completely different society than 40 years ago, so there will be a difference in life style. This is reflected in the students that we now have in school.'

Feller Fixes Furniture

Most students thought that after three o'clock a teachers work was done, but that was not true, at least not for Don Feller.

Every Monday and Thursday night from 7:00 to 10:00 Feller taught a furniture repair class. He offered two different classes during the year, one for 10 weeks in the fall and one for ten weeks in the spring. The class was funded through the vocational department and cost 16 dollars to enroll in.

Teachers like Feller not only taught night classes, but they took them too. Two high school teachers, Meta West and Betty Krenger enrolled in Feller's class. There was no age limit for enrolling in the class. Eighty-four year-old Mrs. Rufus Reed took furniture repair. Feller said Mrs. Reed enjoyed refinishing old rocking chairs.

When asked what some of the advantages were to his furniture repair class, Feller said, 'I enjoy the class because the people are enthused and they take the class because they want to.'

A new experience

"Come on, Bill, it's time."

This sounds like a pretty innocent statement but if you were Bill Foltz, husband of physical education teacher Judy Foltz who was nine months pregnant, it had a lot of meaning.

While Bill Foltz attended the boys' basketball game against Herington, he was called to his wife's side by his dad, Leo. Leo simply stood at the bottom of the stands and yelled, 'Come on, Bill, it's time.' Not only did Bill know it was time but so did the rest of the crowd.

Mrs. Foltz taught and coached tennis until December 5. Brett was born Saturday morning, December 6. "I didn't mind teaching and coaching while I was pregnant because I got a lot of exercise and the time passed quickly."

Coaching while she was pregnant was a new experience for Foltz. "I was limited to what I could do. I really couldn't do much of anything."

One of the most interesting parts of her pregnancy was the reaction of her students. "The freshman boys were curious and almost over-protective while the girls always wanted to know when the baby was due," Foltz said.

Achievement Banquet Features 'Bones' Nay

Playing his clarinet, cracking jokes and yet touching a serious note, Merle 'Bones' Nay, Athletic Director of St. Marys of the Plains College in Dodge City, addressed the second annual achievement banquet which took place May 18 at 6:30 p.m. at the Elk's Club.

H, T and T were the topic for Nay's address. H was for honesty. 'You must be honest with yourself to do well,' Nay said. The next letter, T, was for togetherness, 'Service, pride and satisfaction are the three factors you have to have to get this done.' And the final T, is thanks and you must include it in everyday life,' Nay Concluded.

The Victor E. Viola scholarship and KABI Sports Booster Club Scholarship were presented at the banquet. JoAnn Whitehair and Todd Kuntz received them.

Members of the teaching staff presented academic achievement awards to seniors who were outstanding in their departments. Perfect attendance students and honor roll students also received recognition.

The 1980-81 sports' highlight was that the Cowboys and Cowgirls had finished first or second in 11 of the 12 sports, to claim, for the third time in a row, the all-sports trophy.

1. Outstanding senior students. Back row: Charlie Bowers, Doug Lyne, Dayna Gasswint, Ed Mills. Front row: David Summers, Brian Phillips, Penny brown and Frank Long.

2. Doug Lyne receives the outstanding auto mechanics award from instructor Robert Holeman.

3. Outstanding senior students continued. Back row: Marilyn Janzen, Teddi Bankes Paul Conlon, David Johnson. Front row: Lance Royer, Kathy Cormack, Jim Rogers, Bobby Velasquez, Jon Whitehair.

4. Jon Whitehair receives recognition for Honor Roll of 3.8 G.P.A or better from Leo Lake school superintendent.

5. Playing the music he supposedly used to inspire his basketball team at half time, Merle 'Bones' Nay creates excitement at the achievement banquet.

Fruth Watches Enrollment Drop

Since the early 1970's enrollment at AHS dropped from 630-470 students.

David Fruth, guidance counselor, observed the decline for about ten years. 'One reason is the economy. People go where the jobs are and Abilene doesn't have many job opportunities,' said Fruth.

Dropouts always effected enrollment. In the 1979-80 achool year, 17 kids dropped out of school between the eighth and twelfth grade.

However the decline wasn't expected to last too long. Stated Fruth, 'I think it will decline a few more years, then level off. By 1985, it will start increasing again.'

What's it like being a T.K.*

What's it like to go to school and know that Mom or Dad will be there to check up on you? Four freshman girls, Joy Blair, Sandy Brinker, Katrina Harding and Robin Howie knew the answer to this question.

Blair, daughter of art teacher Earl Blair, felt that there was a good side and a bad side to having a dad as a teacher. 'The good side is if I run out of money, all I have to do is go to his room and ask him for some. The bad side is that he can check up on me or have teacher conferences about me any-time he wants to,' said Blair.

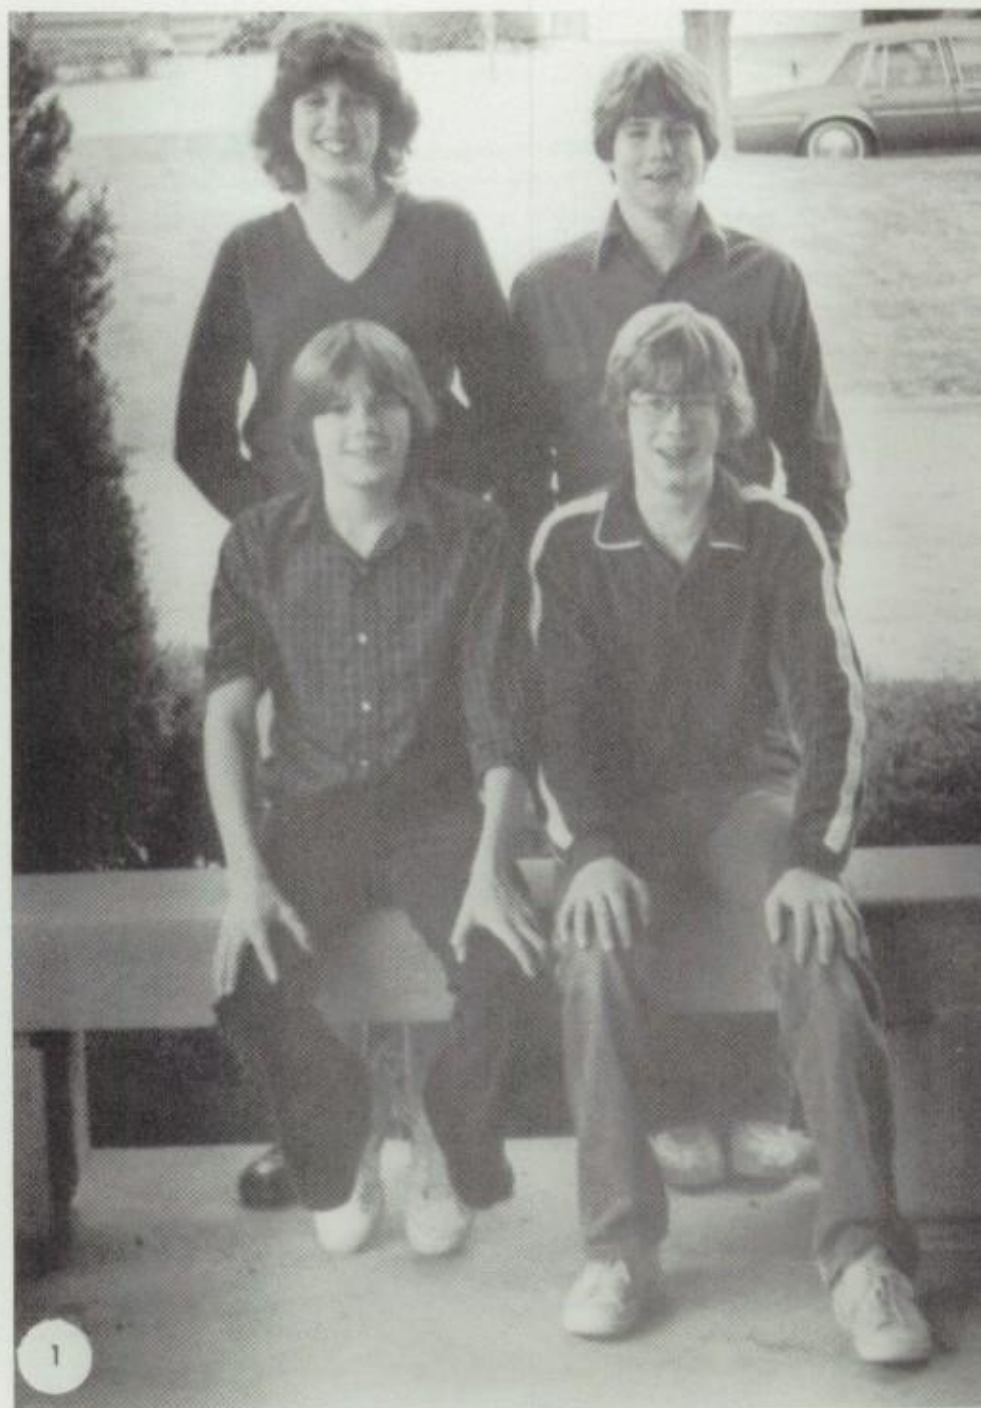

Brinker, whose father Jerry teaches math, was not bothered in the least about having a math teacher for a father. 'I don't have him in any classes, so I never see him,' she said.

'It's okay. The only bad part is that sometimes I get teased,' stated Harding, whose father Bruce teaches biology.

Howie, daughter of secretary Debbie Howie, commented, 'The only problem I have with this is that I get hassled by teachers saying that I don't have any respect for them.'

Frosh finds photography fun

In the past year and a half freshman Jack Jones has taken up photography as a hobby.

Jones became interested watching his neighbor Sylvan Creach developing pictures in his darkroom. Soon after, Jones got his own camera, a Pentax K 1000. His neighbor then taught him how to develop the film and make enlargements.

"The part I enjoy the most is the enlarging," Jones said.

Senic pictures and close-up shots were among some of Jones's favorites. He also enjoyed taking pictures of their dogs and dog farm.

"I don't have any special lenses or anything, but I sometimes barrow my neighbor's," he said.

Jones had also tried taking mirror pictures for special effects, just for something different to do.

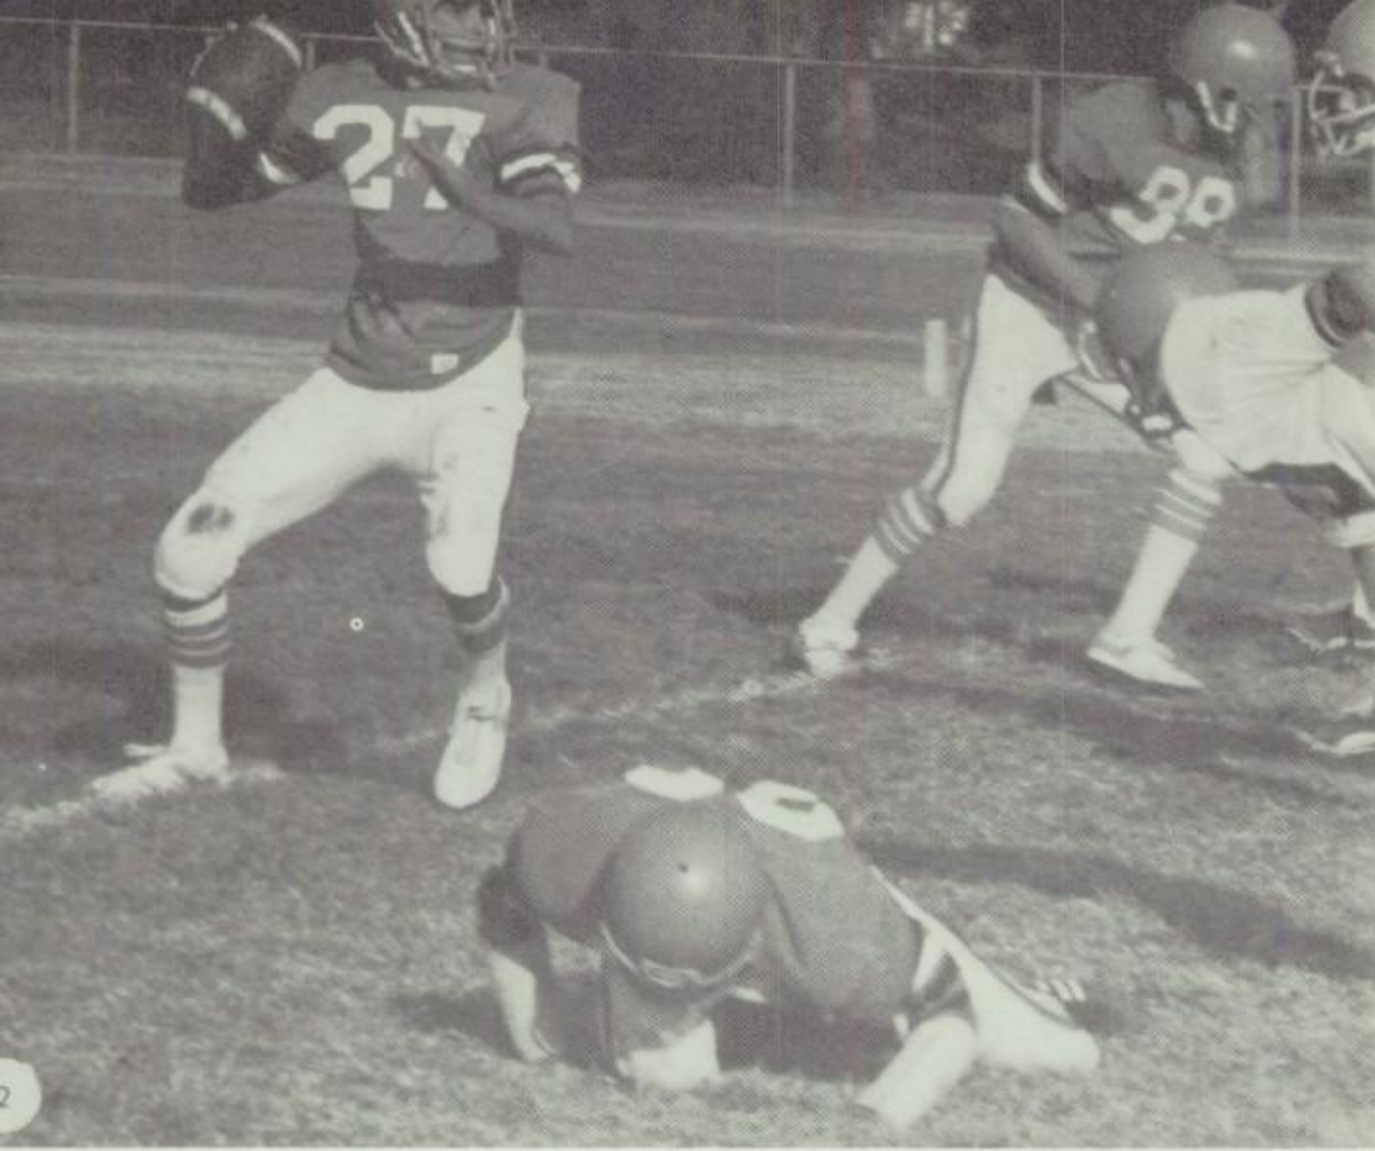

"It turned out pretty good," said Jones. "It just showed a picture of me taking a picture."

Though Jones said that photography was a fun hobby, he did not expect to go into any field of it for a job. However he did hope to someday have a better camera with many special lenses and to set up his own darkroom.

Teasley Enjoys Activities

Freshman Sandy Teasley enjoyed a wide variety of activities, her favorite of which was the guitar.

She occasionally played the guitar for the Christian Women's Club and played for her church almost every week. She had been playing for 5 years, and planned on playing for many years to come. 'I started playing the guitar in fourth grade and found that I really enjoyed it', she said.

Teasley was also involved in the Willowdale 4-H Club and was secretary of the club. Her duties as secretary included writing down the minutes of every meeting, and reading them at the following meetings.

She also played on the golf team as a freshman and lettered. Also she planned on going out for the track team. Other hobbies of hers included swimming, riding horses, reading, cooking and listening to music.

Teasley had also moved quite a bit in her lifetime. She had lived in Massachusettes, West Germany, Colorado, Virginia and Kansas twice. having lived in Emporia at one time.

Heroneme Tickles Ivorys

Almost every student at AHS enjoyed a hobby and Kristy Heronome was no exception.

Heronome was kept busy with many of her activities, and playing the piano was one of her favorites. She started taking piano lessons from Ruth Hagstrand in the second grade. When asked what made her decide to play the piano, she said, 'My mother made me.'

Since then she has played for the ensemble, chorus, during Christmas Vespers, and for the can-can girls at Old Abilene Town during the summer.

Heronome said she liked to play all kinds of music, and besides playing for fun and accompanying groups, she likes to play for relaxation. Heronome explained 'I like to play when I'm mad, to relieve tension.'

Another of Heronome's variety of interests was competing on the First Christian Church Bible Bowl Team. Each team consisted of 4 players. They were asked questions from the book of Genesis. Heronome had traveled to Seattle, Washington for Nationals, and hopes to travel to other spots in the country in the future.

Park goes to the dogs

It was considered a great achievement to win league and to go to state, but sophomore, Lori Park, went to a National contest to show her Australian Shepherd at National at Berrian Springs, Michigan. She won the Nationals Junior Showmanship of the United States.

Park got started when her dad gave her a female shepherd to raise and learn to show. To further help her, she took Dog Care and Training in 4-H for six years. Park was also a member of the Australian Shepherd Club of Kansas. She won locally and state wide and worked her way into becoming a National Champion.

There were four categories which she could enter: showmanship, conformation, obedience and working. She did not have to qualify to enter Nationals or belong to a club in order to participate, but Park said, "It's a good idea to join a club." All she had to do was pay an entrance fee.

Park intended to continue to show in the area and the state, and to further her interest in the area. "I plan to become a dog show judge some day," she said.

Sophs Play Important Role

Participation seemed to be a key word as far as members of the sophomore class were concerned. In the 116 member class at least 71 participated in some sort of extracurricular activity.

Of 72 band members, 28 were sophomores. This was the largest class that participated in band or any other activity.

Participation was also seen in debate as seven of 18 debaters were sophomores. This was the largest class out of the four.

Sophomores also played an important role in sports. Six sophomores lettered in football: Tim Day, Scott Emig, Bruce Garten, Danny Newton, Ralph Ward and Chris Whitehair, while Jana Everett, Tracy Hanback, Paul Morton and Jason Schenck also lettered in cross country.

In basketball, Schenck saw some varsity action. The girls on varsity included Deann Cox, Natalie McDonald, Connie Nemechek, Lori Park and Lisa Stroda.

Becky Heinrich and Nemechek were the only sophs in Ensemble. Kristy Heroneme accompanied them playing the piano.

'The hardest thing is to sit and watch'

Many people have heard the expression 'Oh my aching back,' but that expression held a lot of truth in it according to junior Julie Bogan.

Bogan had back surgery to remove two herniated discs September 22, 1980.

Problems began in August of her sophomore year when the discs slipped out of place and confined her to bed for 23 days. This caused her to start school one week late.

'I was in the hospital about six times prior to my surgery. They put me in traction and this would take the pressure off the discs so they could slide back in place. I got tired of being in the hospital so much, so the doctors and I finally decided surgery was the answer.'

The back problems and subsequent surgery affected Bogan's life in many ways. She only took three hours her first nine weeks of her junior year so she could recuperate. 'The hardest thing for me to do now is to sit in the stands and watch a girls' basketball game knowing I can't participate. I will be able to run track next year but that's the only sport I can participate in.'

Throne lends a helping hand

For almost every activity that took place at AHS, there was someone behind the scenes helping to make it happen. For the wrestling team, the man behind the scenes was junior Doug Throne.

Throne started managing the wrestling team in the eighth grade. He continued managing the wrestling team his freshman, sophomore and junior years and the football team his junior year. 'I just wanted to help out the athletes,' Throne said.

Throne learned basic managing fundamentals at the Crammer Workshop July 13-16, at Emporia State University. He practiced the different wrappings, treating wounds and using different kinds of sprays.

Throne's managing future certainly included the next year's football and wrestling teams, but after graduation Throne was undecided. He thought he might join a managing staff at the college he attended, or possibly try to become a major league baseball trainer. Whatever the case, Throne will always be lending a helping hand.

'Gifted?' Who me?

'You have a brain, use it!'

That's what senior Paul Conlon heard all through grade school. His parents and teachers told him that he was smart, he just needed to push more.

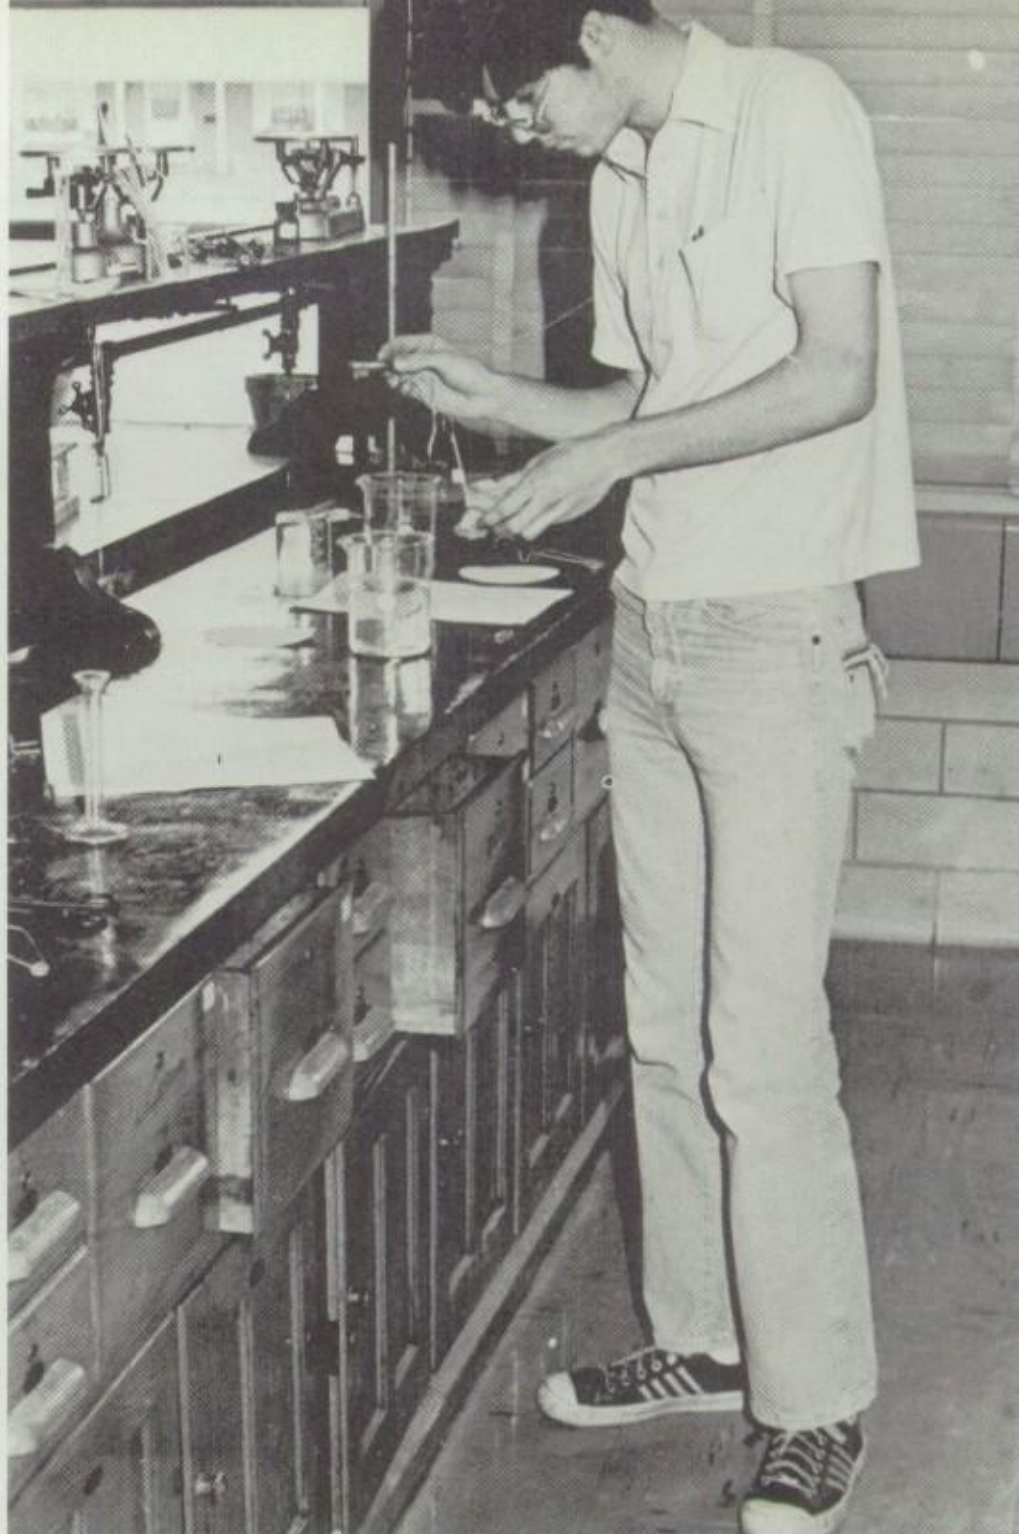

During his junior high years, Conlon used much of his energy getting out of school work. By the eighth grade, he decided to use his energy to get into his school work.

At the end of his sophomore year until about the middle of his junior year Conlon was tested for the gifted program.

The gifted program was for students with high ability. Admission was determined by testing and teacher recommendations. One percent was picked out of the student body.

After several types of testing, including an I.Q. test, which put Conlon at an above genius level, he was admitted to the gifted program. This let him form an independent educational plan that allowed him to study with the library's computer and to take college classes.

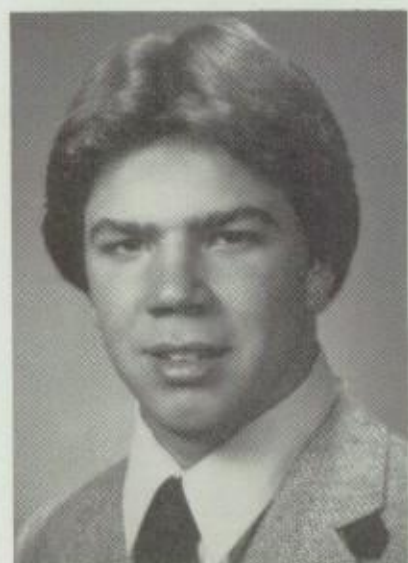

Senior Paul Conlon displays his concentration while working on an assignment in Advance Chemistry.

Seniors graduate with small class

With the smallest class since 1963, the one-hundred and seven graduating seniors received their diplomas on May 20.

The class consisted of forty-three girls and sixty-four boys. Sixty-three of these students began kindergarten together during the '68-'69 school year.

Athletics played an important role for the senior class, as most of the varsity teams were composed of a large number of seniors. They also played a heavy role in the All-Sports Trophy win.

Senior academic accomplishments also include a variety of wins. Ten of the fifteen people who went to the State Writing Contest were seniors, four of them placing and helping to win the trophy. Two seniors participated in debate and led the team to a fifth place finish in state.

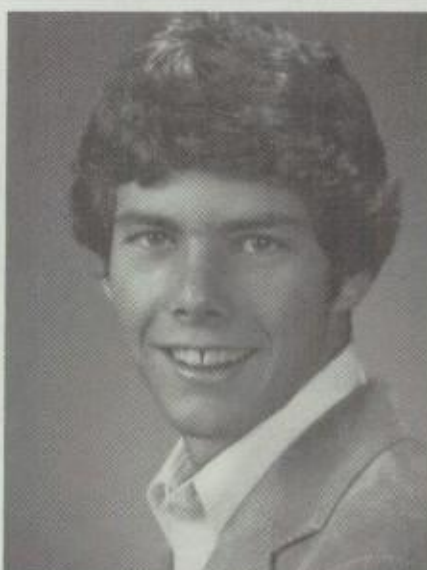

Senior gifts to the school included painting Cowboys, Class of 81 at both ends of the gym and, also a picture carral, which started a new tradition. The carral was filled with candid and action pictures of seniors and their activities. Each graduating class was to fill it with their own pictures.

Farming begins at 5:15 a.m.

Agriculture was a way of life for Dan Scanlan. His interest in farming started when he was very young with the guidance of his family. "It's something that I always wanted to do. My father encouraged me when I was young," said Scanlan.

The Scanlans owned a dairy farm northeast of Abilene. Scanlan had four brothers and a sister to help out, but after they left, there were only his parents and himself to run the farm. Every morning at 5:15, Scanlan would begin milking the 85 cattle. He would do this again when he got home from school.

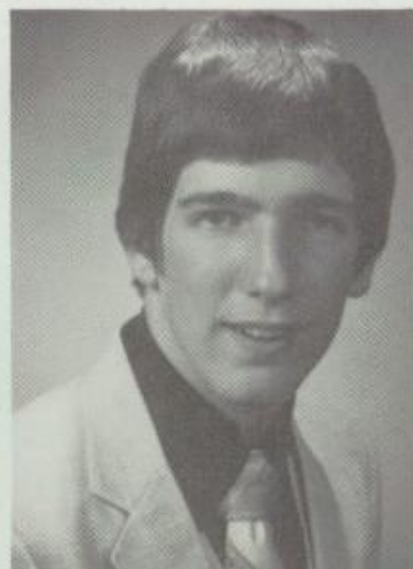

Commenting on whether farm work cut down on his social life, he said, "It does in the way of hunting and fishing and in the summer when we're in the fields to ten o'clock, otherwise it doesn't effect it."

Scanlan himself owned ten head of cattle. These included cows, calves, bulls and heifers. In the future he hoped to start a breeding program with these.

Scanlan was also very active in FFA. He was a member for his four years in high school. His senior year he was president of FFA.

Tragedy Saddens Seniors' Year

On Saturday morning November 22, two high school seniors, Brenda Picking and Michele Miller, were killed in a two car accident on Roller-coaster Road.

Sadness spread throughout the student body as they found out about the accident. Students and teachers felt the loss of two good students. A large portion of the student body paid their respects at the two girls' funerals.

Michele Miller had lived in the Abilene community for two years and was staying with the Charles Bankes family. Michele was active in band, as a cheerleader, an F.H.A. candidate for queen, Y-teens, stage band, Wind ensemble, Pridesters, fennis, biology assistant and an honor student.

Brenda Picking was also an active student in band, assistant at the middle school, Optimist, Pridesters, stage band, Wind Ensemble, Y-Teens and an honor student.

These pages are a reminder of the tragedy that happened and in remembrance of Michele Miller and Brenda Picking. The Yearbook itself is a memorial tribute to their memory.

Weather Moves Graduation

Because of rainy weather the four days preceding graduation and the threat of rain that night, graduation took place in the gym for the first time in six years.

Robert E. Frederick, Executive Director of the Williams Educational Fund at Kansas University spoke at commencement Wednesday, May 20. He emphasized the three R's: rejoice-being happy to graduate, relinquish-releasing the high school years, and resolution-looking ahead toward the future.

Baccalaureate also took place in the gym on Sunday, May 17. The sermon, 'Into The New Land,' was given by Pastor John Graham from the First Presbyterian Church at Manhattan.

4. Jenny Samuelson, Dan Scanlan and Scott Velasquez walk into Pomp and Circumstance at graduation.

5. Juanita Blevins, David Blair and the rest of the graduating class walk out of the gym for the last time.

Talent Show Changes Senior Assembly

In order to provide variety, a talent section was incorporated into the senior assembly. Talent ranged from singing to dancing to reading poetry to playing the piano.

Kathy Cormack played the piano for Angela Barrett as she sang 'Bless the Beast and the Children.' Teresa Nix read the poem 'So Long My Friends.' An Air Band, consisting of Todd Kuntz, Rick Prout, Bob Stone and Jon Whitehair, rocked out on 'Shook Me All Night Long.' Neal Steinhauser played the piano. Teddi Bankes did a modern ballet dance routine to 'Aquarius' and Barb Cox read a poem 'Our Senior Year,' which she had written.

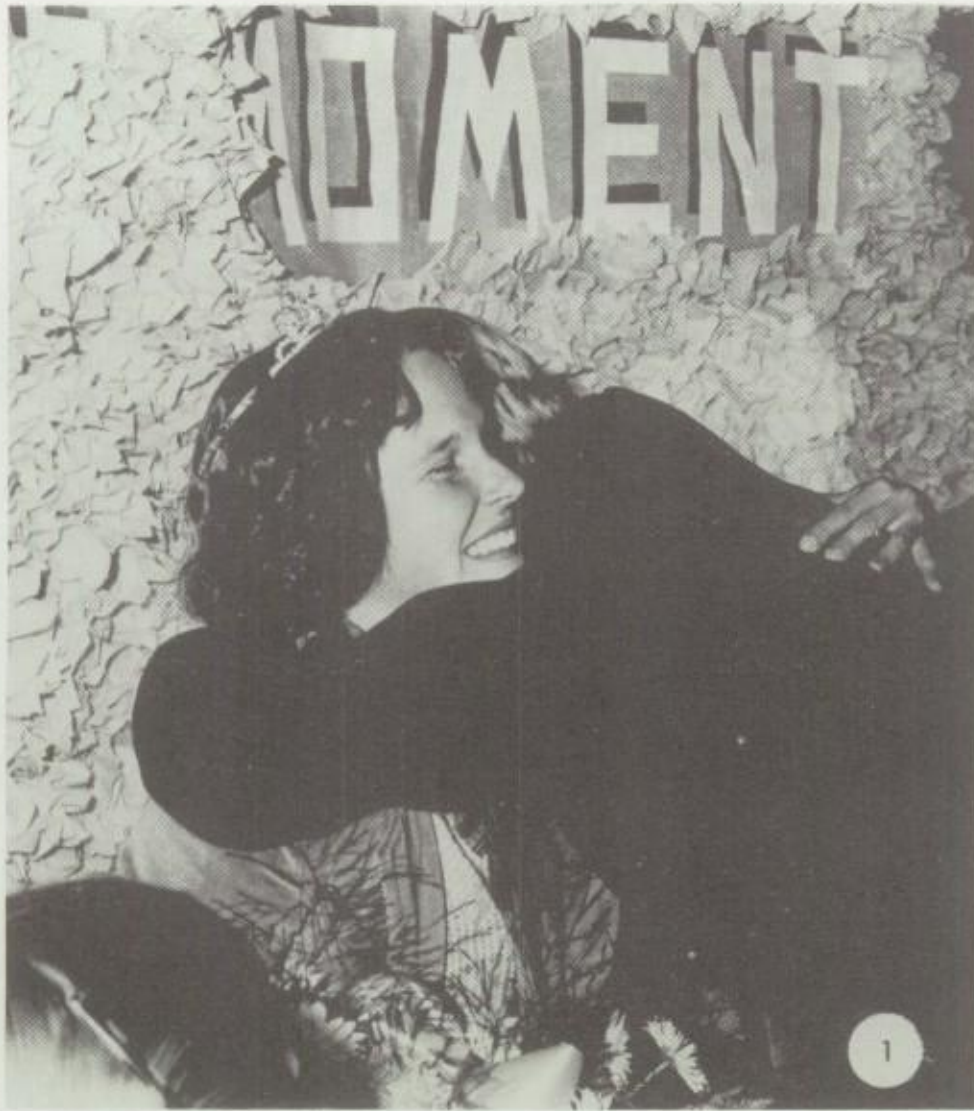

Speeches to summarize the year were read. Various awards and scholarships were acknowledged. The Brown Memorial Scholarship worth $700 were given to Angie Bean, Juanita Blevins, Paul Conlon, Kathy Cormack, Dayna Gasswint, Marilyn Janzen, Frank Long, Doug Lyne, Brian Phillips and JoAnn Whitehair. Two $350 Brown Memorial Scholarship Grants were given to Gene Lindsav and Candy McBride. Other scholarships were also acknowledged.

Seniors exited the auditorium by candlelight as they sang their class song, 'The Best of Times.'

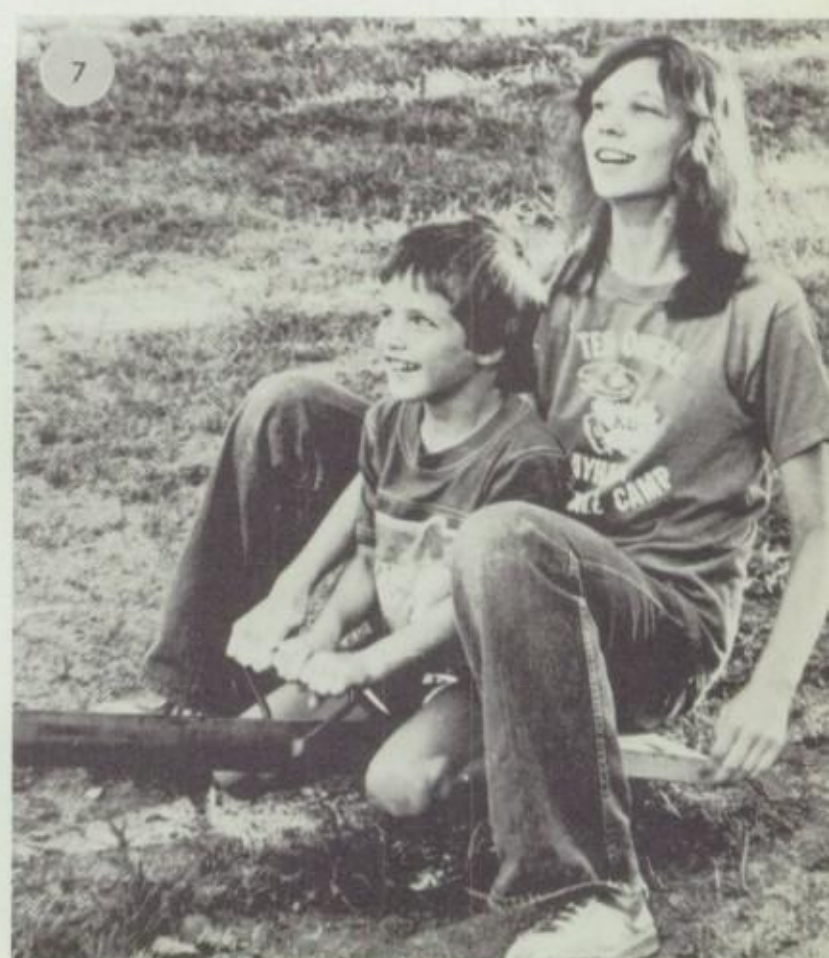

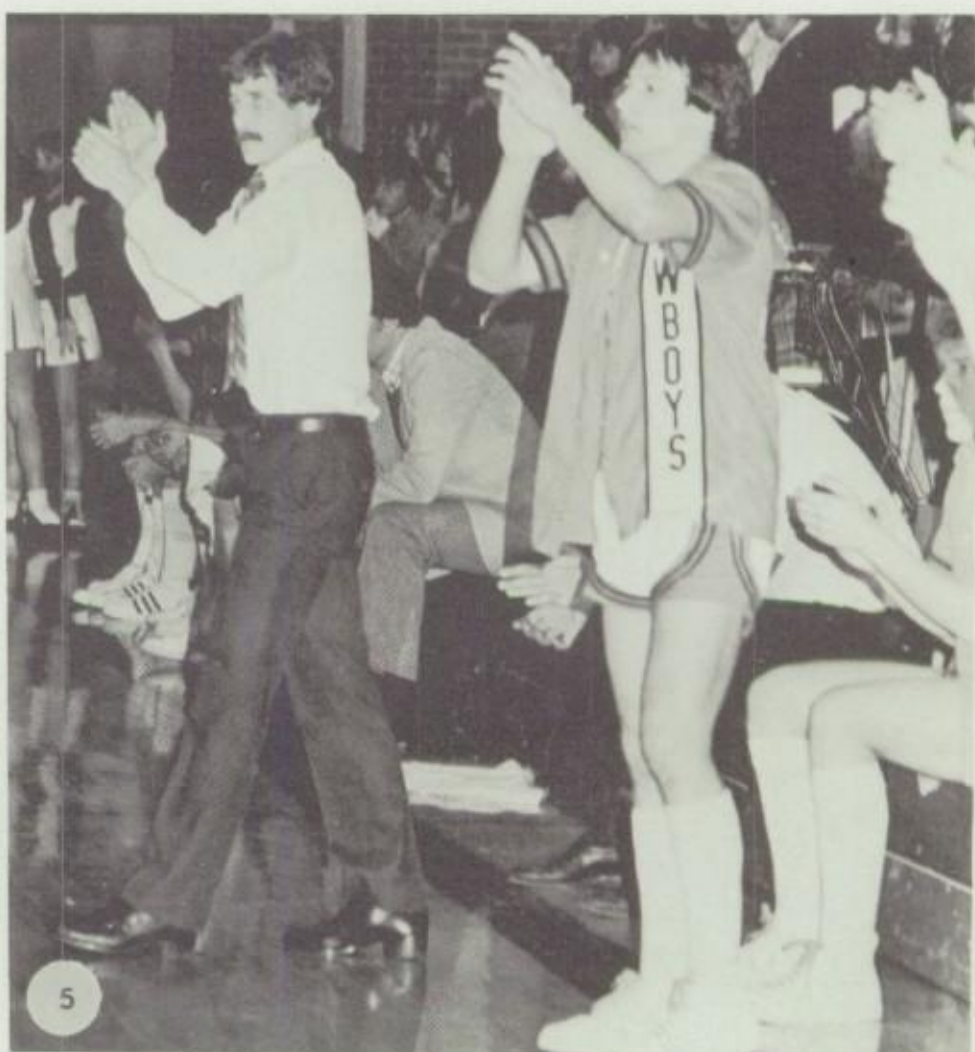

1. Under the direction of Linda Banks, members of the senior class practice their class song, 'The Best of Times.'
2. In spite of what you might think this is an 81 formed by the members of the senior class.
3. As part of the talent section, Air Band members Todd Kuntz, Jon Whitehair and Rick Prout rock out to 'Shook Me All Night Long.'
4. Kathy Cormack and David Summers receive Citizenship Awards from Principal Kenneth Brown.
5. Seniors receive recognition for miscellaneous scholarships they received.
